College of San Mateo Information Competency Standard

Information competency, sometimes referred to as information literacy, consists of the ability to locate, evaluate and ethically use the information that satisfies an information need. College of San Mateo 's Information Competency Standard is derived from the Information Competency Position Statement set forth by the American Association of Community Colleges which is based on the Information Literacy Competency Standards for Higher Education approved by the Association of College and Research Libraries (ACRL) in 2000.

Community college students must be information literate learners who can:

- Determine the extent of information needed
- Access the needed information effectively and efficiently
- Evaluate information and its sources critically
- Incorporate selected information into one's knowledge base
- Use information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- Understand the economic, legal, and social issues surrounding the use of information, and access and use information ethically and legally

This standard will be under review in 2016/17 and will be updated to better align with the new Framework for Information Competency in Higher Education that was approved by ACRL in February, 2015.
