Middle College

Curriculum

Students are required to take two high school courses which adhere to the San Mateo Union High School District-approved curriculum and satisfy high school graduation requirements. Juniors will take integrated courses, American Literature and U.S. History. Seniors take English, and semester courses of economics and American government. Additionally, students will take a study skills class, designed to ensure that students take advantage of the many instructional support services available to the students.

- United States History course syllabus and outline
- American Government course syllabus and outline
- American Economics course syllabus and outline
- English 5-6 course syllabus and outline
- English 7-8 course syllabus and outline

Students first enroll in college courses that will meet high school graduation requirements, and then students will fill the remainder of their schedules with courses at College of San Mateo. For many courses, students can earn both high school credits and college units.

Below is the Spring 2016 schedule for the high school classes all Middle College students must take:

School Recommendations

Keep open lines of communication between teenager and parent(s);

Find balance in managing daily life;

Enforce consistent rules to teach independence and responsibility;

Avoid being the “helicopter parent”, Middle College is not setup for that type of parenting.
