The STEM fields are booming in California, and demand for highly skilled science and technology workers is expected to continue in the coming decades. But these fields can be tough going. Even the most passionate STEM students sometimes find it difficult to excel on their own, and many students are unaware of the support resources available to them. Underprivileged students often find STEM majors inaccessible.

That is why College of San Mateo has launched its STEM@CSM initiative, which provides students with their own study lounge, counseling, internships, field trips, a speakers series and intensive coaching in science and math. It combines the efforts of two major programs—MESA and METaS—with the resources to help students thrive in these demanding majors.

Both programs focus on increasing the number of underprivileged and underrepresented students in STEM fields by giving them game-changing opportunities and support.

“We provide guidance, opportunities and support for low-income, first-generation and underrepresented students who want to study careers in STEM,” says Olivia Viveros, director of CSM’s MESA program.

STEM@CSM has opened a dedicated student center that offers tutoring and study space. Students can drop in for help with math homework, chat with other STEM majors, ask a staff member about internships, or just study. The center provides academic and per-

CSM Student/Employee Success Story: Carlos Ruiz

Carlos Ruiz was working as a full-time custodian at CSM in 2015. One night, while Ruiz was cleaning a classroom, someone asked “So how old are you, and why aren’t you in school right now?” It was CSM Professor Michelle Mullane, who was preparing to teach her psychology class that evening.

The conversation that followed changed Ruiz’s life forever. This spring, Ruiz will graduate from San Francisco State University with a bachelor’s degree in urban studies and planning.

Ruiz was not sure about applying to CSM at first because he was focusing on working and supporting his family. He had attended another community college and it wasn’t the best experience. Still, Mullane told him to take a placement test and eventually talked him into enrolling in classes.

Even though Ruiz wasn’t confident on how well he would do as a returning student, Mullane and other professors at CSM supported him through it by guiding him emotionally and academically.

“As a returning student, the transition of getting back into college felt a lot more seamless than it otherwise would be if I’d gone about it alone,” says Ruiz. “At CSM I have met more professors, faculty, staff and administrators who have been more than willing to go out of their way to help me with things,” says Ruiz.

Ruiz says that when he finally signed up for classes at CSM, he didn’t know what he wanted to do. But he was inspired by professors such as Rudy Ramirez, Frederick Gaines, Mick Sherer and Catherine Firpo. Their classes pushed him out of his shell as he studied the complexities of social and racial issues—topics he would continue to pursue after transferring to San Francisco State University.

It was a challenge to maintain a rigorous full-time schedule while also holding down a full-time job. Monday through Friday, Ruiz was typically in class from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and then at work for a night shift from 4 p.m. to midnight. Despite being tired and having days where it felt difficult to push through, Ruiz credits his professors at CSM for helping him through it. Talking it out with Professor Ramirez on a daily basis helped him get through his busy schedule, especially when he was tired and feeling unmotivated.

EOPS Offers a Boost for Students in Need

Enya Nava needed help as a first-generation college student. Her mother, a single parent who came to America as an immigrant, didn’t know how to help her plan her college education. “I had to figure everything out on my own and I had no idea about anything, really,” Nava says.

At College of San Mateo, Nava found out about the Extended Opportunity Programs & Services (EOPS) program, which supports low-income and first-generation students. EOPS provides the resources students need to succeed—such as personal counseling, academic counseling, textbook assistance, gas cards, parking passes, child care and much more.

For many students, getting into college isn’t half as much of a challenge as staying in college. EOPS offers “above and beyond” support services designed to increase access, retention and success. Over the years, the program has proven essential for thousands of members of the community who have struggled to become self-sufficient and needed assistance in navigating college and university systems.

“We help students who experience a specific set of challenges in navigating higher education. Those who arrive to college academically underprepared or with certain financial needs,” according to Patrice Reed-Fort, the interim coordinator and counselor of EOPS, Care and Calworks.

Message from the President

Part of the magic of community colleges is that they are open to everyone. Whether it's an honors student who wants to save a little money before transferring to a university, or a working parent who wants to move up in their job, CSM draws students from every imaginable circumstance.

Many CSM students, though, face some sort of disadvantage or didn't have all the opportunities they would have liked. Many students need financial assistance, especially with the astronomical cost of living in the Bay Area. Nearly all college students need a mentor—a professor or a staff member who sees their potential and can guide them along the way.

This is where CSM truly excels. We have a knack for identifying the student who needs a boost, we find the right resources for that student, and we stick around and make sure they get through their educational goals. It's something you won't find in most four-year colleges and universities. But at CSM, it's what we live for.

This Fall 2019 Schedule of Classes looks at the many ways we identify and support students who can use a boost. Our cover story looks at how we are actively seeking out under-represented students (Latinos, first-generation college students, and many others) to pursue studies and careers in the STEM fields (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math). California is in need of a well-trained workforce in the coming decades, and we especially need to bring more people of color into the STEM professions. Two of our grant-funded STEM support programs—METaS and MESA—have combined forces to offer an impressive array of services designed to attract and support students in the STEM fields.

Our page one story on CSM custodian Carlos Ruiz is inspirational and makes me so proud to lead this college. Carlos was cleaning a classroom one night when professor Michelle Mullane stopped him to ask why he wasn't enrolled in college classes. She and other faculty members mentored Carlos, who went on to earn an associate degree in ethnic studies at CSM. He transferred to San Francisco State, where he will receive a bachelor's in urban studies this year. That is the kind of transformation that happens every day at CSM, thanks to the dedication of our faculty and the hard work and perseverance of our students.

We also look at two important programs that give support in other ways to CSM students. EOPS (Extended Opportunity Programs & Services) works with students from disadvantaged backgrounds to get them resources like scholarships, free textbooks, access to tutoring and mentoring. Many of our graduates say they would not have made it without EOPS. Our learning communities bring in students of similar backgrounds—Latino, African American, Pacific Islander—and gives them a close community that helps support them through school.

This is a truly remarkable college. Just about anyone who needs some help will find it here. I am grateful to the faculty and staff members who help our students succeed, and we are all grateful to this community for supporting our work.

Have a great fall.

Michael Claire, CSM President

College of San Mateo is accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, (10 Commercial Boulevard, Suite 204, Novato, CA 94949, 415-506-0234), an institutional accrediting body recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation and the U.S. Department of Education.

College of San Mateo is committed to equal opportunity regardless of age, gender, marital status, disability, race, color, sexual orientation, religion, national origin or other similar factors, for admission to the College, enrollment in classes, student services, financial aid and employment in accordance with the provisions of Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 (45CRF 86), Section 504, Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-112), and the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990.

What are Learning Communities and Why do We Offer Them?

Learning Communities are cohort-based programs that link instructors across disciplines and connect people who share common academic goals and attitudes. CSM's learning communities offer an innovative and exciting approach to learning designed for student success.

Connecting with other students through a common interest is very important in a student's first year of college. Joining a learning community provides a more engaged and satisfied college experience. Learning community connections are both intellectual (understanding the correlation between classes) and social (making close friends). By joining one of these programs, students join a group of peers, instructors, counselors, and administrators who support and encourage each other. In short, being a part of a learning community improves student success and enhances the academic experience at CSM.

Cultural Communities

Mana (collegeofsanmateo.edu/mana)

Mana is a transfer support program that focuses on specialized retention support strategies needed for success in college. It focuses on the Pacific Islander American-student experience and is open to all students. The three primary components of the program are ethnic studies, communication and academic support.

Puente Project (collegeofsanmateo.edu/puente)

The Puente Project is a collaborative transfer support program. Puente, meaning "bridge" in Spanish, is symbolic of how the Puente Project serves as a bridge for the community college student, both from their home culture to academia and from community college to the transfer process.

The Puente Project links English and career classes in a one-year learning community that advances the Puente mission to increase the number of educationally underrepresented students who enroll in four-year universities, earn college degrees, and return to the community as leaders and mentors.

Umoja (collegeofsanmateo.edu/umoja)

Umoja, (a Kiswahili word meaning unity) is a community and critical resource designed to enhance the educational experiences of African American and other students. The program pairs English and ethnic studies in a two-semester program.

Students are required to enroll in English and ethnic studies classes concurrently each semester as well as attend out of class field trips and activities as members of the Umoja community.

Interest Communities

Honors Project (collegeofsanmateo.edu/honorsproject)

Honors Project is a unique interdisciplinary community that joins a dedicated group of faculty and students who work together to create a rich, intellectual experience at CSM.

Students earn honors credit in selected transfer courses by developing and successfully completing advanced research projects. Students are required to concurrently enroll in an Honors Project research seminar.

Writing in the End Zone (collegeofsanmateo.edu/wez)

Writing in the End Zone is a learning community that links English and physical education. It began in 2004 as a response to concerns about the low success, retention, and persistence rates of African American and Pacific Islander male students at College of San Mateo in English courses.

Working closely together, English faculty and football coaches have created a seamless program that fosters student-athletes' success in the classroom and on the field.

Writing in the End Zone won the Spirit of CSM award in 2009 and an honorable mention for Exemplary Programs in 2010 from the California Community Colleges Board of Governors.

Transitional Communities

Project Change (collegeofsanmateo.edu/projectchange)

Project Change is the first community college supported program in California to provide wrap-around student support services, direct access to postsecondary education for incarcerated youth, and in-person college instruction inside juvenile youth facilities.

The project connects students to resources and programs at CSM, such as a college readiness summer bridge program, social and academic support services, nationally recognized cohort learning communities (Puente, Umoja, and Mana), and career and technical education programs. Students are provided a clear pathway to resources on campus to enhance success.

International Education Program

College of San Mateo welcomes international students, who enrich the academic, cultural, and social life of the campus by bringing a diversity of ideas and global perspectives to the classroom and the CSM community. The International Education Program supports our international students and provides opportunities beyond the classroom for all students to engage in events and experiences that involve the global community in which we live.

College of San Mateo's International Education Program provides extensive support services for international students including an efficient admissions process, assistance with financial aid, a welcoming on-campus orientation, and ongoing counseling and advising throughout the students' enrollment at the college. Dedicated, student-centered professors, small-sized classes, and state-of-the-art facilities create a robust instructional environment in which students grow intellectually and prepare for transfer to a four-year institution or for further training in a career. For information, visit collegeofsanmateo.edu/international or contact (650) 574-6525.

Distance Education

College of San Mateo is committed to meeting the evolving needs and expectations of its students and community through the expansion of alternative means of delivering instructional and student support services.

Distance Education courses consist of online and hybrid courses. Online courses are conducted through a class website, and there are no mandatory campus meetings. Hybrid courses are conducted mostly online but do have at least one meeting on campus. Most CSM Distance Education courses are applicable toward associate degree credit, and many satisfy transfer course requirements. Additionally, students enrolled in Distance Education courses have the same access to financial aid as those enrolled in on-campus courses.

Distance Education courses may not be right for all students. They give students greater freedom of scheduling, but they also require more self-discipline than on-campus courses. How well distance education courses fit into a student's educational and career goals depends on many factors. It is important for first-time distance education students to review the information available on the Distance Education website at collegeofsanmateo.edu/distanceeducation. For those students who are able to create the right environment, have the right study habits, and understand the technical and academic requirements, CSM's Distance Education courses can be as effective as on-campus courses in terms of student learning.

The Distance Education Office is available to assist students and answer questions in order to ensure College of San Mateo students have a successful distance learning experience. For more information, please visit the Distance Education website at collegeofsanmateo.edu/distanceeducation or call (650) 574-6271.

Financial Aid Steps

Step 1: Apply

Educational Goals at CSM

View the College Catalog and the College website, collegeofsanmateo.edu, for more information about goals and opportunities at College of San Mateo.

University Transfer Program

Complete your freshman and sophomore years of university work at College of San Mateo and transfer as a junior to a baccalaureate level college or university. College of San Mateo can help you plan an educational program to prepare you to transfer to the University of California, California State University or private college or university to earn a bachelor's degree. Assistance from Counseling Services and Transfer Services can ensure a smooth transition to the transfer institution of your choice. With planning, it is possible to concurrently complete an associate degree as you complete coursework to facilitate university transfer. In many cases, students planning to transfer may want to pursue an Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T/AS-T). See information below.

Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA-T/AS-T)

Benefit Students Intending to Transfer to CSU

California community colleges offer associate degrees designed to support transfer to the California State University system. Students who complete an AA-T or AS-T secure priority admission to the California State University system. A list of associate degrees for transfer (AA-T/AS-T) is located within the "Degrees and Certificates Offered at CSM" section below and on the Transfer Services website. For more information about SB 1440 and advantages to completing an AA-T or AS-T go to www.sb1440.org or www.adegreewithaguarantee.com.

Associate in Arts and Associate in Science Degree Programs

At College of San Mateo you can select from 65 associate degree majors, or choose to complete multiple degrees to enhance career and job opportunities or for personal enrichment. Graduation from College of San Mateo with the associate in arts or science degree is based upon the completion of 60 units of lower-division college-level work, which includes major, basic competency, and general education requirements. For a complete list of associate degree majors and courses required to satisfy each major refer to collegeofsanmateo.edu/catalog.

Certificate Programs

You can earn a certificate in achievement or a certificate of specialization in over 67 areas. Certificate programs are designed to prepare you for employment. All certificate programs are carefully developed by advisory committees composed of college staff and selected representatives from the business and industrial communities. Typically certificates can be completed in one semester or over several semesters. Certificates are awarded upon successful completion of requirements listed in the CSM Catalog at collegeofsanmateo.edu/catalog.

Bachelor Degree to Associate Degree

Students who have already been awarded a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university in the United States and wish to pursue an associate's degree at College of San Mateo may be exempt from College of San Mateo local associate degree requirements if the lower division degree-applicable coursework completed for the bachelor's degree includes current Title 5 minimum associate degree requirements. (Title 5, 55063) This policy does not apply to Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA/AS-Ts). Students must still complete a minimum of 12 units in residence to establish residency at College of San Mateo and must complete at least 50% or 12 units, whichever is less, of coursework applied to the associate degree major in residence at College of San Mateo. The units applied to meet residency requirements may also be the units that are needed to meet the major requirements. For more information refer to the college catalog at collegeofsanmateo.edu/catalog or use Counseling Services.

Monitor Your Progress toward University

Transfer, AA-T/AS-Ts, Associate Degrees, and Certificates

Within your student WebSMART under the Student Services tab, find DegreeWorks. DegreeWorks is a tool to monitor progress toward your educational goals. DegreeWorks looks at the program requirements found in the College of San Mateo, Cañada College, and Skyline College catalogs and the coursework you have completed to produce an easy to read degree audit. Also in DegreeWorks you can work with a counselor to develop a comprehensive student educational plan (SEP) that maps out, semester by semester, courses needed to meet your educational goals. Students with SEPs have a higher registration priority than students who do not have SEPs.

Multiple Educational Goals

At College of San Mateo you are free to pursue your educational interests for personal and career growth and development. This may mean that you want to complete certificates, associate degrees, and transfer. You are not limited to selecting one educational goal.*

*Students participating in the CSM Financial Aid program are required to declare one primary educational goal.

Updating Job Skills

You may find classes and programs that appeal to you for updating your job skills or advancement in your career.

Program Planning and Enrollment Management

Students enrolling at College of San Mateo should plan a program of study that will meet their educational and career goals. All students who complete matriculation steps have access to counseling services and should consult with a counselor early in the educational process for academic planning assistance. Students often have multiple goals and plan to complete a college certificate, an associate degree, and/or transfer to a university to complete a baccalaureate degree.

If in the course of enrollment at College of San Mateo, students find it advisable to change their program of study or educational goal, they may do so. These changes should be discussed with a counselor and students should be aware that any changes may result in extending the time necessary to fulfill the certificate or degree or transfer requirements. Ultimately, students maintain full responsibility for planning their educational programs and for their enrollment management.

Students are responsible for maintaining current and accurate information in their WebSMART accounts, checking student email, updating educational goal information, managing registration and enrollment, retrieving grades and English and math assessment results, and monitoring academic standing.

Degree and Certificates Offered at CSM

The A.A./A.S. Degree Requirements worksheet can be obtained from the CSM Online Catalog at collegeofsanmateo.edu/catalog, the Counseling Center, or at collegeofsanmateo.edu/degrees/requirements.asp.

Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T/AS-T)

These unique associate degrees allow students to prepare for transfer and complete an associated degree that guarantees admission with junior standing to the California State University system. Though not a guarantee to all California State University campuses and all majors, it does secure priority admission consideration.

"Obtaining an Associate Degree for Transfer at College of San Mateo gives students a significant advantage in the transfer process!"

Fees

Class registration will not be allowed if there is any outstanding balance due and students will be dropped from classes for non-payment of fees. Upon registering for classes, all payment deadline information will be sent immediately to the student's my.smccd.edu email account. For more important information, visit collegeofsanmateo.edu/fees.

Student enrollment fees are set by California's legislature and governor and are subject to change at any time. It is possible that your fees may be adjusted at a future date. All student records are automatically held until all outstanding debts to the District colleges have been cleared. Unpaid bills may be sent to collections.

Students who are classified as California residents as defined in the California Education Code will be charged an enrollment fee, a health services fee and a student representation fee. An optional student body fee will also be assessed. In accordance with California law, the enrollment fees may be waived for California residents who demonstrate financial need and qualify for a California College Promise Grant (CCPG). Contact the College Financial Aid Office for additional information.

Students who are classified as nonresidents will be charged a tuition fee in addition to the enrollment fee, health services fee and student representation fee. International Students (F-1 Visa) are subject to a health insurance requirement and are charged tuition and capital outlay fees in addition to enrollment fees. Contact the International Education Program for details.

The student representation fee was established by student election to support student advocacy before local, state and federal offices and agencies.

In addition, students will be required to purchase textbooks and miscellaneous supplies, as well as tools and technical supplies for certain programs. In some courses students will also be required to pay a non-refundable instructional materials charge.

Fees are subject to change at any time by action of the State Legislature, Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or the District Board of Trustees.

If you need assistance in paying your fees, you are encouraged to:

- Enroll in an inexpensive payment plan via WebSMART
- Apply for financial aid (www.fafsa.gov) at least five business days prior to registering for your classes
- Complete the California College Promise Grant (CCPG) Fee Waiver via WebSMART

If you still need financial assistance after exhausting all options listed above, please contact the Vice President of Student Services at csmvps@smccd.edu.

AB 540 Students

Under Assembly Bill 540 (AB540), you may be exempt from paying nonresident tuition. Students who have attended a California high school for three years and received a California high school diploma or its equivalent, such as a GED or passed the high school proficiency exam, are exempt from paying nonresident tuition. See page 4 for more information.

Credit and Refund Policy

Enrollment Fee, Nonresident Tuition Fee, Health Services Fee and Parking Fee

Students who officially withdraw from all courses, or reduce their program prior to the first class meeting or by the course deadline date will receive credit toward future fees for the full amount of all fees paid for those classes. To view deadline date, check course in WebSMART. A $10 processing fee (plus an additional $50 processing fee for nonresident tuition) will be retained by the College if a refund is issued to a student withdrawing from all classes. For all courses dropped after the deadline, these fees are not refundable unless an action of the College (e.g. class cancellation) prevents a student from attending class. Parking permit fees are not refundable.

Student Body Fee and Student Representation Fee

Students enrolling during the normal registration period in semester-long classes may request a waiver or a refund of the Student Body Fee and/or the Student Representation Fee through the last day to drop semester-long classes (see Important Dates on page 2). Students enrolling after the end of this deadline may request a waiver or a refund of these fees within one (1) week of completing registration. Students enrolled only in short courses have until the first class session to request a waiver or refund of these fees. Students requesting a waiver or a refund of the Student Body Fee and/or the Student Representation Fee must do so in-person at the Center for Student Life and Leadership Development in Building 12, Room 211.

Variable Unit Courses

No enrollment fee or nonresident tuition refund or credit will be available to students enrolled in variable unit courses who earn fewer units of credit than the number for which they originally registered. Students earning additional units will be charged accordingly.

Important:

1. Credit balances remain on student accounts for a maximum of five (5) years.
2. A student may either choose to maintain a credit balance on account or contact the Cashier's Office (Building 10, Room 360, 574-6412) to arrange for a refund.
3. Refunds are NOT issued automatically and are subject to a $10 processing fee if the student withdraws from all classes. Refunds of nonresident tuition are subject to an additional $50 processing fee.
4. Fees paid by personal check require 30 days for bank clearance before refunds can be processed.
5. To be eligible for a credit or refund, a student must officially withdraw from a course within the stated deadline. To view deadline date, check course in WebSMART. A withdrawal initiated by an instructor may NOT result in a credit or refund.
6. Fees will be credited or refunded without a processing charge if an action of the College (e.g. class cancellation) prevents a student from attending.
7. Student records, including transcripts, are withheld until all debts to the District colleges have been cleared.

CSM's program, which serves between 350-400 students per year, provides a critical safety net of resources and services to encourage and promote their success.

"EOPS for our students is family and it is a safe space," says Reed-Fort. "Additionally, we help students navigate their academics and we offer tutoring, a wide range of workshops on time management strategies and basic skills such as learning how to construct an email."

Funded by the State of California, EOPS programs are available at all 114 community colleges in California. To participate in the program, students meet state eligibility requirements based on family income and demonstrated educational disadvantage. Once in the program, students enter into a Mutual Responsibility Contract and receive monthly academic progress reports to ensure they stay on track in their goals toward completing college degrees, certificates and university transfer.

A forerunner of the EOPS program originated at CSM in the late 1960s when several counselors, staff members and students formed the College Readiness Program to provide a variety of services to low-income, academically underprepared students to help them in attaining their educational goals. Eventually the state legislature passed a bill to fund programs at all California community colleges.

In the years since, EOPS has adapted in many ways. The program is developing a peer mentor group and a Student Outreach and Recruit (SOAR) team in order to build a supportive and strong community of student leaders. EOPS is recruiting students for outreach and in-reach within the program to strengthen their community.

Aaron Meneses, the former student president of EOPS and now a student senator, joined EOPS in 2015. He was a returning student to college—a father of two and the primary bread winner for his family—so he took advantage of the resources at EOPS.

"If it hadn't been for EOPS, I probably wouldn't be in school right now," says Meneses. "They really helped with buying the books, and that helps a lot. Especially since I'm a computer science major and the books are expensive."

Meneses is grateful for not only for the financial support but for the community it provides. "You want to be around like minded people," explains Meneses.

Nava and Meneses feel the program has made them successful by making them accountable for their classes and grades. EOPS counselors ensure that the students check in with them and follow through on their education plans.

"We support our students through our program that takes a holistic approach to supporting our students through navigating this institution and achieving their educational career and academic goals," says Reed-Fort.

"I don't think I would be able to graduate without EOPS because they helped me so much," says Nava. "For me, EOPS was that guidance and that community I really needed."

After graduating from CSM with an associate degree in ethnic studies and social sciences, Ruiz transferred in 2017 to San Francisco State as an urban studies and planning major.

"We look at cities and transportation systems and try to essentially plan for the future, making sure to plan in an equitable fashion," says Ruiz. He hopes to improve urban life, especially for people who have historically faced economic and social disadvantages, inspired by what he learned at CSM about racial and social inequities.

He's interested in affordable housing initiatives, doing studies on transportation systems and addressing other ethical issues.

For Ruiz, his studies are personal since he is of Latino descent and can relate to those who are in similar backgrounds. "Growing up in an incredibly diverse city, I had friends of various backgrounds and their personal stories are essentially what led me to know more about these things," explains Ruiz.

Ruiz encourages students to step out of their comfort zone. "Get to know your professors and don't be afraid to ask them questions and don't be afraid to see them on their office hours."

"You never know how invaluable that connection will be in the future," he says.

sonal encouragement students need to successfully transfer to a university in a STEM field.

The program has kicked off year-round special events to inspire students and give them access to resources beyond CSM's campus. STEM@CSM organizes field trips to Bay Area universities like Stanford, as well as trips to conferences where students can network with others in their field.

Now in its second year, the Science in Action speakers series features talks by CSM graduates who are working as researchers, physicians, engineers and scientists. "The students hear from professionals who are either graduate students or who work in the industry and hear about their journey and how they got where they are," says METAS director José Rocha.

This year, STEM@CSM collaborated with the Math Resource Center to celebrate Pi Day, in which students constructed and solved problems with the Pi formula.

MESA and METAS have teamed up to promote free math and science "jams" to brush up on skills before each semester. For one week before classes begin, students dive into work that gives a strong foundation for math and science courses. The students build a valuable community of support for the upcoming semester.

Students in the program also get help with finding internships. Offered in conjunction with the Bridges to Baccalaureate Program, the students work at Stanford or San Francisco State with researchers in a summer research internship program in medical biology.

The STEM@CSM initiative is the result of a collaboration between METAS and MESA—two grant-funded programs at CSM that share the goal of supporting and increasing the number of under-represented students in STEM majors.

The METAS program focuses on supporting Latino and Hispanic students at Hispanic-serving Institutions (HSIs, which are colleges with at least 25% LatinX enrollment). The program started in 2017 at CSM, with a $5.3 million grant to CSM over five years. All students are welcome to join the program, even those who are not of Hispanic or Latino descent.

MESA, which stands for mathematics, engineering, and science achievement, is a nationwide program focused on supporting underprivileged students in calculus-based STEM majors such as physics and engineering. The CSM chapter was established in October 2017 with a grant of $75,000 each year for three years.

Rocha is excited about the impact of supporting LatinX and other under-represented students pursuing STEM fields. "We are creating a community in order for students to feel supported and welcomed."

Parking Regulations

Parking Permit Requirements

All persons driving motor vehicles (except motorcycles) on to campus and utilizing the parking facilities during regular class hours (Monday-Friday, 7 am–10 pm), including final examinations, are required to obtain and display a parking permit on their vehicle. A parking permit is not required for students riding motorcycles and parking must be in designated Motorcycle Parking in Marie Curie Lot 5. Student parking permits are available for $54 each for the fall and spring semesters (Fall/Spring Permit $98) and $27 for the summer session. Parking permits for students with California College Promise Grant (CCPG) waivers are $30 per semester (fall or spring) and $25 for the summer session.

Lost or Stolen Parking Permits

If a permit is lost or stolen, replacements are available at full price.

Purchasing Parking Permits

Students may purchase parking permits only online using WebSMART. Permits may be ordered and paid for online and mailed to the student's residence. Students may also order a permit online from computers located on the third floor of Building 10 (Admissions and Records Office and Cashier's Office) and then pay for the permit and pick it up in the Cashier's counter. Temporary parking permits are available online after purchasing a permit. Please follow online instructions on how to obtain your temporary parking permit while awaiting delivery of permit in the mail. Parking permit fees are nonrefundable unless an action of the College (i.e. cancellation of all of the student's classes) prevents the student from attending. Lost or stolen parking permits are nonrefundable.

Displaying Student Parking Permits

Permits must be displayed in the vehicle with the number visible from the exterior of the vehicle. They may be either affixed on the inside lower left of the windshield (above the steering wheel) or affixed to a plastic hanger suspended from the inside rear view mirror. Plastic permit hangers may be obtained from the Bookstore for $1 plus tax. Permits may be used on multiple vehicles.

Vehicles with improperly displayed permits will be subject to citation. It is the permit holder's responsibility to properly display the permit in the vehicle and to notify CSM's Department of Public Safety promptly if the permit is lost or stolen.

Daily parking permits are available for purchase for $3 each from permit dispensers in Hillsdale Lot 1B, Beethoven Lots 2A and 2E, Galileo Lot 6B, and Stadium Lot 11. Daily permits are valid in all lots where, and when, students are authorized to park. These permits must be displayed face-up on the dashboard.

Semester parking permits and daily parking permits are valid on all three campuses of the District (College of San Mateo, Skyline College and Cañada College).

A grace period allowing for the purchase of permits will be in effect during the first two weeks of the spring and fall semesters and the first week of the summer session in student lots only. Citations will be issued beginning on Wednesday, August 28, 2019 for students parking without a valid permit. All staff parking lots are strictly enforced. The grace period pertains only to student permits with all other parking regulations enforced at all times in all parking lots and roadways.

Disabled Parking

Blue Handicapped parking spaces have been provided in Lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 11 and 12 (see Campus Map). A vehicle must have and display a valid California State Disabled Person Placard (issued by DMV) to park. Disability parking spaces are regulated under California Vehicle Code Section 22511.5 Disabled Parking Authorized Parking Zones. No student, staff, daily, patron or visitor parking permit required when displaying a valid CA DP placard.

Visitor Parking

Visitors must purchase a daily permit ($3 per day) for time beyond 40 minutes at the permit machines located in the lots. These permits must be displayed face-up on the dashboard. No student parking is allowed in visitor lots.

Visitors may also park in a student lot after purchasing and displaying a $3 daily permit. Parking permit machines are located in Hillsdale Lot 1B, Beethoven Lots 2A and 2E and Stadium Lot 11. For the location of the parking lots please see a campus map. No visitor parking permit required when displaying a valid CA DP placard.

Electric Vehicle Charging Stations

Parking in the EV charging stations is limited solely to electric vehicles that are actively charging with a maximum time limit of 4 hours per vehicle. (No parking permit is needed as long as the above conditions are met.)

Any vehicle parked in an EV space and is not an electric vehicle, not charging, or is left past the 4-hour maximum limit will be subject to a citation. Fees are assessed for vehicles plugged-in over four (4) hours. Visit smccd.edu/sustainability/electricvehiclecharging.php.

Traffic and Parking Regulations

The speed limit on the campus is 15 mph.

Parking is permitted only on blacktop surfaces in specifically marked parking spaces. Parking on unpaved areas, in roadways, in crosshatched areas, in marked end zones, in areas posted as no parking zones or in any unauthorized area is prohibited. Vehicles backed into diagonal parking spaces can create a hazard when exiting and will be subject to citation.
