"The ESL programs at San Mateo Adult School (SMAS) and CSM prepared me for the college level work that I needed to master to get to a university. For me, it was the right way to go," says Ignacio.

Ignacio is one of a large population of English learners who have successfully made the transition from adult school to college. As students improve their English skills at SMAS, they are able to enroll at CSM and continue in the college's ESL program before moving on to transfertrack courses or branch out to other subject areas to earn degrees and certificates. Student Success Story: Grace Noland

San Francisco State University, Communications Major

For Grace Noland, a graduate of Mercy High School in Burlingame, attending CSM was a transforming experience. She arrived at the college as a determined and independent student uncertain of what she wanted to pursue academically, but she had confidence that she would be able to figure it out at CSM. "I wanted to start over. I wanted my successful past—that had been successful because of my dedicated parents and supportive teachers and coaches—to be put to the test. I wanted to prove to myself that I could do it alone. And, I wanted my supporters to be proud that they had contributed to my success."

Grace could have done it alone but she believes that it wouldn't have made her personal or academic life as interesting. She worked full-time to pay for her education and participated in a few extra-curricular activities, but she wasn't completely satisfied. It was during her second semester at CSM that her perspective changed completely. "I met a student in my philosophy class, who is now one my best friends, and she was adamant about me showing up at an Alpha Gamma Sigma* (AGS) meeting. Having tried clubs in high school I tried putting it off, but when I finally attended, I thought it was okay. As I continued to attend meetings, I became more comfortable and realized that I had skills that could help the club." As she became more involved in AGS, Grace found herself on the club's executive board as the communications officer. With the position came a lot of work, organization and fun, and ultimately, her skills helped to build a stronger club.

While college life was good, Grace decided to pursue her childhood dream of visiting and studying in Italy. She knew she had wanted to participate in the college's Study Abroad Program and she applied for the Semester in Florence. While in Florence (picured above), Grace was able to take a full load of transferrable courses and

Language Arts Programs Cultivate Learning for Life, Transfer & Work

World literature, intercultural communication, creative writing, English as a second language, film history, American sign language, screenwriting, Chinese, and composition and reading are just a sampling of the broad range of courses offered in CSM's Language Arts Division. According to James Carranza, dean of language arts, "The division provides a variety of courses which fulfills students' transfer requirements and represents enticing elective and personal enrichment courses." As Carranza points out, semester-to-semester a significant percentage of CSM students register in one or more of the language arts disciplines, and every transfer student will at some point take courses in the division.

Language arts courses develop students' essential communication and thinking skills—reading, writing, speaking, and critical thinking—those skills that are instrumental to their success across disciplines and later in whatever work or career field they choose.

The division includes six departments, with about eighty faculty members: communication studies, English, English as a second language (ESL), modern languages (American Sign Language, Chinese, and Spanish), film, and reading.

"We are proud of the high quality of our faculty and programs, and especially of the instructional support services we provide students in our discipline-specific learning support centers. A 70 percent success rate in English 100, a critical gatekeeper class, speaks to the overall quality of the program. And 70 percent is excellent for a course of this rigor," says Carranza. As he explains, "In

Across the division, our faculty and staff are responsive to students' needs both inside and outside the classroom. We take a student-centered approach to teaching. The com-

Message from the President

Welcome to CSM's 2016 spring semester. In this Schedule of Classes, we are focusing on our Language Arts Division, a division of the college that nearly every student will pass through on their way to transfer, graduation or a career. The Language Arts Division at CSM encompasses a rich variety of courses that emphasize written and verbal communication skills and critical thinking—essential abilities for any profession, career or major. These are subjects that give students a great foundation for upper division courses at universities, graduate schools and beyond.

Most of our classes in language arts, and particularly English, are much smaller than university English classes, which allow students to receive quality instruction and personal attention from outstanding professors. Our faculty get to know our students and often serve as mentors. My eldest daughter, now an elementary school teacher, is an excellent example of a student who was guided in her educational journey by the wise counsel of her English professor.

Additionally, we are proud that the Language Arts offers several learning support centers to provide one-on-one tutoring and individualized instruction in English, ESL/reading, modern language and communication studies. This kind of quality instruction and supplemental services allow students to leave CSM with stellar skills.

In keeping with our language arts theme, our Alumni at a Glance column celebrates New York Times bestselling author John Lescroart who attended CSM in 1967. You may be familiar with his work as he is the author of 27 novels, 18 of which have been on the bestseller list.

To highlight our communications studies program, the most popular major in the division, we include a student success story about Grace Noland. In Grace's story, she describes how her speech professor inspired her to follow a path to San Francisco State University to major in communications.

Another popular offering in our language arts department is film. To introduce the film program, we feature an interview with Professor of Film David Laderman. His passion for his discipline really comes through as he talks about the program, his students and his many other film-related endeavors.

We chose our ESL program as the subject for our standing feature, "CSM in Your Community." We are extremely proud of our ongoing ESL partnership with San Mateo Adult School. Because of this collaboration, students who arrive at CSM after receiving basic language skills at the adult school make a seamless transition to college classes.

In addition to the diverse course offerings in our Language arts Division, there are many other subject areas to appeal to broad interests, abilities and educational goals. I hope you find something that sparks your interest in learning. Have a great semester!

An Interview with Professor of Film David Laderman

David Laderman's enthusiasm for the art of film is palpable. As a professor of film, he has shared his passion and expertise with college and university students for more than 25 years. Joining CSM's faculty in 1995, his teaching career has also included faculty positions at San Francisco State University, UC Davis and Stanford University. His contributions to CSM extend far beyond his film classes. Since 2013, David has provided faculty leadership as the college's Academic Senate president. He also was a member of the core team of faculty who developed and implemented CSM's Honors Project; he currently serves as the project's coordinator. In 2013, he created Stepping Up: Transfer Tribute, CSM's annual event to celebrate the achievement of transferring students.

David has written three books on various subjects in film: Driving Visions: Exploring the Road Movie (2002); Punk Slash! Musicals: Tracking Slip-Sync on Film (2011); and Sampling Media (a co-edited volume) (2014); he is a contributing author to Lowering the Boom: Critical Studies in Film Sound (2008) and Open Roads, Closed Borders: The Contemporary French-Language Road Movie (2013). David earned a Ph.D. from UC Davis, M.A.s from Emory University and San Francisco State University and a B.A. from California State University, Northridge.

In this interview, David discusses his inspiration for becoming a film educator, CSM's film program, teaching in the program and his active participation in other aspects of the college community.

What or who influenced your decision to study film?

When I was finishing my bachelor's degree in English at Cal State Northridge, I took a class on film criticism from a fantastic and inspiring professor, John Schultheiss. It was a lightbulb moment—I felt a connection with film appreciation and study. After that, I found my calling and I never looked back.

Describe the components of CSM's film program and which do you teach?

We offer three categories of classes: Introduction to Film and film history courses which are the foundation of film study. The second would be special topics in film study. These are elective courses in genres, directors, global cinema and, for example, a new class for fall 2016, Watching Quality Television. The final group consists of hands-on classes in screenwriting and production. I teach the courses in the first two groups. We are very fortunate to have four part-time faculty in the film program who are filmmakers and screenwriters by profession and bring a different flavor to our classes.

What is the goal of CSM's film program?

To offer a solid liberal arts education that enhances students' critical thinking skills and promotes media literacy as the world becomes increasingly dominated by electronic media.

How do you encourage/inspire younger students to appreciate older films?

I bring my passion and enthusiasm to the classroom and it seems to work. It's not so much of a challenge because students are very mass-media savvy. I'm finding that younger students are ready to appreciate older films. They have the mindset that "everything old is new again, and everything new is old." Case in point, my Film History 120 students this term shocked and delighted me with how receptive and insightful they were regarding the earliest of films from the 1890s.

How has the study of film changed over the years?

Of course the impact of the digital revolution has changed how we watch films - very often streamed on computers, devices, and monitors. And the study of film has also changed. Many film scholars feel some of the best films produced today are TV shows on HBO and other cable channels. Television shows have become very cinematic and sophisticated, they borrow from film style and film history. The difference between film and television has in many ways disappeared. Film, television, and the Internet have become folded into each other.

What are some of the options for students who want to pursue a career in film studies?

If they earn their associate degree in film, they can move on to complete a bachelor's degree and continue and earn a graduate degree in film. One of their options would be to teach in high school, community college and at the university level. For those who want a career in filmmaking and production, it's highly competitive. My advice is to be entrepreneurial, promote yourself and focus on solid, creative output.

Two of the books you have written focus on very different genres: road movies and punk music in film. What was your inspiration for these books?

It comes from my interest in the counterculture, and the notion of using film to challenge the status quo. Both of my books focus on those themes. My road movie book is widely used as a textbook and has generated a great deal of interest around the world. I regularly get emails from doctoral students in places like Cuba or Italy; just recently I was visited by a doctoral student from China who has translated my work, and who used my book as a starting point for her dissertation (which has been published as a book.) The punk music film book originated from my dissertation at UC Davis, and is more of a niche topic—not for everyone.

REGISTRATION & ENROLLMENT INFORMATION

Who May Attend CSM

Any person who is a high school graduate, or who has passed the California High School Proficiency Examination or the General Education Development Examination (GED), or who is 18 years of age or older is eligible to attend this public community college. See How to Apply and Enroll on page 5.

High school students may be admitted for concurrent enrollment with the permission of the dean of enrollment services. See College Connection Concurrent Enrollment Program on this page for details.

Open Enrollment

Every course offered at College of San Mateo (unless specifically exempted by legal statute) is open for enrollment and participation by any person who has been admitted to the College and who meets the prerequisites of the course provided that space is available.

Residency

Students who have been California residents (as defined in the Education Code) for more than one year prior to the beginning of any semester are eligible to enroll as residents for that semester. Nonresident students are those U.S. citizens who have not been residents of California (as defined in the Education Code) continuously for one year prior to the start of the semester. They are required to pay a tuition fee of $213 per unit at the time of registration, in addition to other required fees paid by California residents. Nonresident students possessing "T" or "U" visas are exempted from paying the nonresident tuition rate. Students may be required to present documentary evidence of eligibility for classification as residents. See page 21 for Fees.

Students need not be U.S. citizens to be classified as residents. Permanent resident aliens and many other citizens of other countries are eligible to establish California residency.

Getting Started at CSM

Continuing Students Priority Registration

Priority registration gives specific groups of students the opportunity to register for classes early. Generally, groups are given priority based on maintaining current Student Educational Plans (SEPs), completing the matriculation process, maintaining good academic standing, and earning a total number of units with the district.

A student is considered a continuing student with priority registration if the student enrolled in the Fall 2015 semester in at least one class and is either still enrolled; or dropped the class after the class session had started. In late October, students will be sent a WebSMART registration appointment email which will contain their individual appointment date. Continuing students may register and pay fees using WebSMART on or after their appointment date. All students who have an outstanding balance from any prior semester will not be able to register for classes until all fees are paid.

Application Process for NEW and FORMER Students

All students who have not attended any of the last three semesters, including summer session, must submit an Application for Admission for the Spring 2016 term. Submit an Application for Admission at collegeofsanmateo.edu/apply. After being admitted, and completing matriculation requirements, if applicable, new and former students may register and pay fees using WebSMART. See Spring 2016 Important Dates on page 2.

College Connection Concurrent Enrollment Program

The High School College Connection Concurrent Enrollment Program is a special program designed to provide current 9th–12th graders the opportunity to get an "early start" on their college experience and earn college credit. Enrollment fees are free to California residents who enroll in less than 11 units.

- Step 1: Apply for admission online at collegeofsanmateo.edu/apply.
- Step 2: Meet with your high school counselor to review and select your college courses.
- Step 3: Take placement tests at CSM if you plan to register for English or math courses or a course that has an English or math prerequisite. More information can be found at collegeofsanmateo.edu/testing.
- Step 4: Submit completed Course Request Form to the Admissions and Records Office at College of San Mateo, Building 10, Third Floor, by mail, in person, or by fax (650) 574-6506.
- Step 5: Register for classes at collegeofsanmateo.edu/websmart.

College of San Mateo offers a special enrollment program that provides priority access to matriculation services and enrollment for students who plan to enter the College in Spring 2016. More information about PEP can be found at collegeofsanmateo.edu/pep.

Transfer Students

Students who have completed lower division coursework at other colleges and universities and wish to apply that credit to the completion of a College of San Mateo certificate, associate degree, or to a California State University General Education Certification, or to an IGETC Certification should have their transcripts officially evaluated after applying for admission at collegeofsanmateo.edu/apply. For more information, review the Transcript Evaluation Service information at smcd.edu/transeval.

Dismissed Students

Students on dismissal status within the San Mateo County Community College District must go through a process to request reinstatement and permission to enroll in classes. The first step of this process at College of San Mateo is to attend a Reinstatement Workshop. To schedule a reservation for a workshop go to the Counseling Office in Building 10, Third Floor, Room 340 or schedule online (WebSMART - "schedule appointments"). Students must complete the workshop and the reinstatement process prior to the registration deadline date for the term for which they request enrollment.

Students who were dismissed and who have NOT been in attendance at College of San Mateo, Cañada, or Skyline College since Spring 2015 must complete an Application for Admission prior to attending the Reinstatement Workshop.

International Students

Residents of other countries may apply for admission as F-1 Visa students through the International Student Center. International Education

College of San Mateo welcomes international students, who enrich the academic, cultural, and social life of the campus by bringing a diversity of ideas and multicultural perspectives to the classroom and by providing opportunities beyond the classroom for all CSM students to engage in conversations and activities that create a broader understanding of the global community in which we all live.

College of San Mateo's International Student Center provides extensive support services for international students including an efficient admissions process, assistance with financial aid, a welcoming on-campus orientation, and ongoing counseling and advising throughout the students' enrollment at the college. Dedicated, student-centered professors, small class size, and state-of-the-art facilities create a robust instructional environment in which students grow intellectually and prepare for transfer to a four-year institution or for further training in a career. For information, contact (650) 574-6525.

Distance Education

College of San Mateo is committed to meeting the evolving needs and expectations of its students and community through the expansion of alternative means of delivering instructional and student support services.

Distance education courses consist of online and hybrid courses. Online courses are conducted through a class website, and there are no mandatory campus meetings. Hybrid courses are conducted mostly online but do have at least one meeting on campus. Most CSM distance education courses are applicable toward associate degree credit, and many satisfy transfer course requirements. Additionally, students enrolled in distance education courses have the same access to financial aid as those enrolled in on-campus courses.

Distance education courses may not be right for all students. They give students greater freedom of scheduling, but they also require more self-discipline than on-campus courses. How well distance education courses fit into a student's educational and career goals depends on many factors. It is important for first-time distance education students to review the information available on the distance education website at collegeofsanmateo.edu/distanceeducation. For those students who are able to create the right environment, have the right study habits, and understand the technical and academic requirements, CSM's Distance Education courses can be as effective as on-campus courses in terms of student learning.

The Distance Education Resource Center is available to assist students and answer questions in order to ensure College of San Mateo students have a successful distance learning experience. For more information, please visit the Distance Education website at collegeofsanmateo. edu/distanceeducation or call (650) 574-6271.

Step 5: Register for Classes and Pay Fees

- Register for classes
- Pay for all enrollment fees
- Print a schedule summary of this transaction
- You can also order textbooks online in WebSMART under registration

Step 6: Sign In and Use Your Assigned my.smccd.edu Email

You can expect to receive important email messages from your professors and the college before the first day of school. Log into your WebSMART student account to find your email address and password and check it regularly.

Financial Aid

Students applying for Financial Aid must complete enrollment steps as noted above. All students who have completed coursework at other colleges/universities must have their transcripts officially evaluated within the first semester of enrollment. To request an official evaluation have all of your transcripts sent to College of San Mateo Admissions and Records Office and request an evaluation on WebSMART. Sign on WebSMART, click on Student Services, find Request a Transcript Evaluation.

Complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to automatically be considered for all of the following programs:

Board of Governer's Fee Waiver (BOGFW)

The State of California offers a BOGFW for students who are residents of the State of California, attend a community college, and are eligible for need-based financial aid. The BOGFW pays enrollment fees only for the academic year when eligibility has been determined. Other fees, such as parking, health, student body and student representation, must be paid by the student (see Fees page 21).

Federal Pell Grant

You are automatically considered for a Federal Pell Grant when you file the FAFSA. If you receive an Expected Family Contribution (EFC) of $5200 or less on the Student Aid Report (SAR), you are eligible for a Federal Pell award. Less than halftime students have a much lower EFC cut-off to be eligible for a grant. Awards for students are prorated based on enrollment status: full-time 12 or more units; three-quarter time 9–11.5 units; half-time 6–8.5 units; less than half .5–5.5 units. Awards range from: $287 – $5,775.

Cal Grant A, B and C Deadline to Apply is March 2 or September 2

Cal Grants are for California residents only. They are awarded by the California Student Aid Commission for attendance in schools in California only. Maximum awards are: Cal Grant B $1,666; Cal Grant C $547.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

FSEOG is a grant awarded to students with exceptional need (EFC of o through 1,000). Awards range from: $100–$800. Priority application date: March 2. Visit www.icanaffordcollege.com

California Chafee Grant (CHAFEE)

The California Chafee Grant Program awards funds to eligible current or former foster youth for career and technical training or college courses. Eligible Chafee applicants are required to be, or to have been, in foster care between their 16th and 18th birthdays, and to not have reached the age of 22 by July 1 of the award year. Maximum annual award: $5,000.

Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS)

EOPS is a state-funded program that provides book vouchers, grants, support services, and limited transportation services to high-need, educationally disadvantaged students who are California residents. Students must complete the FAFSA and/ or a BOGFW application to apply. Students must be enrolled full-time at the time of application. Final eligibility for EOPS and CARE is determined and coordinated through the EOPS Office.

Student Employment Federal Work Study (FWS)

Students who apply for financial aid and complete the Student Information Sheet and the FAFSA by March 2 are given priority. Maximum Annual Award: up to $10,047. Priority application date: March 2.

California Dream Act

The Dream Act was passed into law in 2011 and allows AB 540 students to apply for and receive several types of financial aid, including Board of Governors Fee Waiver, Cal Grants and Chafee Grants, EOPS, CARE or CalWorks and Scholarships.

Loans and Scholarships

Loans are funds that students borrow now and repay after they complete a program of study or stop going to school. Scholarships are awarded for a variety of criteria. Visit collegeofsanmateo. edu/finaid or call the Financial Aid and Scholarship Office at 574-6146 for more information.

EDUCATIONAL GOALS: ASSOCIATE DEGREES, CERTIFICATES, TRANSFER

Educational Goals at CSM

View the College Catalog and the College website, collegeofsanmateo. edu, for more information about goals and opportunities at College of San Mateo.

University Transfer Program

Complete your freshman and sophomore years of university work at College of San Mateo and transfer as a junior to a baccalaureate level college or university. College of San Mateo can help you plan an educational program to prepare you to transfer to the University of California, California State University or private college or university to earn a bachelor's degree. Assistance from Counseling Services and Transfer Services can ensure a smooth transition to the transfer institution of your choice. With planning, it is possible to concurrently complete an associate degree as you complete coursework to facilitate university transfer. In many cases, students planning to transfer may want to pursue an Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T/AS-T). See information below.

Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA/AS-T) Benefit Students Intending to Transfer to CSU

California community colleges offer associate degrees designed to support transfer to the California State University system. Students who complete an AA-T or AS-T secure priority admission to the California State University system. A list of associate degrees for transfer (AA-T/AS-T) is located in the CSM Catalog and on the Transfer Services website. For more information about SB 1440 and advantages to completing an AA-T or AS-T go to www.sb1440.org or www.adegreewithaguarantee.com.

Associate in Arts and Associate in Science Degree Programs

At College of San Mateo you can select from over 65 associate degree majors, or choose to complete multiple degrees to enhance career and job opportunities or for personal enrichment. Graduation from College of San Mateo with the associate in arts or science degree is based upon the completion of 60 units of lower-division college-level work, which includes major, basic competency, and general education requirements. For a complete list of associate degree majors and courses required to satisfy each major refer to the CSM Catalog.

Certificate Programs

You can earn a certificate in achievement or a certificate of specialization in over 70 areas. Certificate programs are designed to prepare you for employment. All certificate programs are carefully developed by advisory committees composed of college staff and selected representatives from the business and industrial communities. Typically certificates require 12–40 units of coursework and can be completed in one semester or over several semesters. Certificates are awarded upon successful completion of requirements listed in the CSM Catalog.

Bachelor Degree to Associate Degree

Students who have already been awarded a Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university in the United States and wish to pursue an associate's degree at College of San Mateo may be exempt from College of San Mateo local Associate degree requirements if the lower division degree-applicable coursework completed for the Bachelor's degree includes current Title 5 minimum associate degree requirements. (Title 5, 55063) This policy does not apply to Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA/AS-Ts). Students must still complete a minimum of 12 units in residence to establish residency at College of San Mateo and must complete at least 50% or 12 units, whichever is less, of coursework applied to the associate degree major in residence at College of San Mateo. The units applied to meet residency requirements may also be the units that are needed to meet the major requirements. For more information refer to the college catalog or use Counseling Services.

Monitor Your Progress toward University

Transfer, AA/AS-Ts, Associate Degrees, and Certificates

Within your student WebSMART under the Student Services tab, find DegreeWorks. DegreeWorks is a tool to monitor progress toward your educational goals. DegreeWorks looks at the program requirements found in the College of San Mateo, Cañada College, and Skyline College catalogs and the coursework you have completed to produce an easy to read degree audit. Also in DegreeWorks you can work with a counselor to develop a comprehensive student educational plan (SEP) that maps out, semester by semester, courses needed to meet your educational goals. Students with SEPs have a higher registration priority than students who do not have SEPs.

Multiple Educational Goals

At College of San Mateo you are free to pursue your educational interests for personal and career growth and development. This may mean that you want to complete certificates, associate degrees, and transfer. You are not limited to selecting one educational goal.*

*Students participating in the CSM Financial Aid program are required to declare one primary educational goal.

You may find classes and programs that appeal to you for updating your job skills or advancement in your career.

Program Planning and Enrollment Management

Students enrolling at College of San Mateo should plan a program of study that will meet their educational and career goals. Attend the College Orientation and Course Selection Workshop to acquire information about program planning and how to achieve educational goals. All students who attend a workshop have access to counseling services and should consult with a counselor early in the educational process for academic planning assistance. Students often have multiple goals and plan to complete a college certificate, an associate degree, and/or transfer to a university to complete a baccalaureate degree.

If in the course of enrollment at College of San Mateo, students find it advisable to change their program of study or educational goal, they may do so. These changes should be discussed with a counselor and students should be aware that any changes may result in extending the time necessary to fulfill the certificate or degree or transfer requirements. Ultimately, students maintain full responsibility for planning their educational programs and for their enrollment management.

Students are responsible for maintaining current and accurate information in their WebSMART accounts, checking student email, updating educational goal information, managing registration and enrollment, retrieving grades and placement test results, and monitoring academic standing.

Associate Degree for Transfer (AA/AS-T)

These unique associate degrees allow students to prepare for transfer and complete an associated degree that guarantees admission with junior standing to the California State University system. Though not a guarantee to all California State University campuses and all majors, it does secure priority admission consideration.

What is your favorite film and what types of films or genres do you prefer to watch?

Rather than one, I'll give you my top five (that come to mind at the moment!): The Grapes of Wrath, which is a road movie; Alien; All that Jazz; The State of Things, a fascinating but slow German movie about filmmaking; and Shakespeare in Love. I tend to prefer American independent and European films, though I'm a big fan of film noir and science fiction. As far as more recent films, I was really pleased that the brilliant 12 Years a Slave got so many major awards. I saw Inside Out with my son, and loved it. I got seriously addicted to HBO's True Detective (season I), but also really enjoy off the wall documentaries like Cave of Forgotten Dreams or Finding Vivian Maier.

In addition to teaching and serving as president of the Academic Senate, you have been instrumental in the development and implementation of CSM's Honors Project. What would you like the community to know about the Honors Project?

First of all, the Honors Project is a very innovative and inclusive program which gives students a unique opportunity to collaborate in a seminar and to reap the benefits of a seminar environment. This format allows CSM students to probe more deeply into their academic studies. Additionally, it provides great training for students once they move on to upper division work at a university and eventually graduate school. We travel throughout Italy. "Most of the organized trips were the perfect length and the right amount of structure and freedom. Italy was a life-changing experience but not for the romanticized reasons most people think. I found myself contemplating my next step. Where was I going? What should my next steps be?"

When Grace returned to the states, she was at a crossroads: her family, health, and finances were hurting. However, she realized that CSM was there for her once again. Faculty helped her believe in her potential both in the classroom and beyond. She became a student assistant for a faculty leadership group, which she found interesting because it provided insight into the operation of the college. Working on campus added a new dimension to her education. "I feel that I became a stronger, more confident person, both academically and personally because of the friends I made at CSM and the support I received from faculty and staff."

In spring 2013, Grace earned two associate degrees and three certificates, she also found a clear path to follow: "I was inspired by Professor Rope's Speech 100 class to become a communications major and transferred to San Francisco State University. My goal for the rest of my education is for it to be as fulfilling as possible. While I've not decided on a particular career, I want to keep my options open. I just know that I like helping people and I know my communications background will serve me well."

"I would recommend CSM to anyone; it is wonderful for all types of people. It's a nurturing place where students are received with open arms and the best intentions. It's what you contribute that will follow you the rest of your academic career and life."

publish an award-winning student academic journal, Labyrinth. And we just recently received the great news that our Honors Project has been accepted into UCLA's Transfer Alliance Program (TAP). This program fosters academic excellence at community colleges level and promotes diversity and retention. Our Honors Project students will now receive priority consideration for admission to UCLA, as well as scholarships reserved for the Transfer Alliance Program. Overall the TAP certification further improves their chances to transfer to UC schools.

Before you came to CSM, you taught at several universities. How does teaching at a community college compare with teaching at university level?

It's interesting to me that there are actually so many similarities. The level of class-room discussion is not that different, especially in the lower division courses. I have been able to motivate my students to critically appreciate the power and magic of film; the response is similar at all the institutions where I have taught. One of the differences I find is at CSM, we get a broader cross section of the population which livens the flavor of the classroom discussions. It's also a special treat for me to, in most cases, be introducing students to the study of film.

What do you find most rewarding about teaching at a community college?

It's a pleasure to work with students who are just starting their college career and are trying to find their way. For me, it is a good feeling to inspire students at that level and observe them opening their minds to new ideas. At the same time, I love the mix with working adult or reentry students, who bring great life experiences to the classroom, yet are seeking more from their lives.

Describe a few of the highlights of your teaching career at CSM.

There are many, but I would have to include participating in the Study Abroad program twice, once in London, once in Paris, teaching film to our students in those glorious places. Also, for sure teaching the Honors Project seminars. Creating and hosting the Transfer Tribute event, especially the "open mic" during which students eloquently share personal and powerful stories about their experiences at CSM. Another highlight is being part of the What the Film Festival, CSM's home-grown student film festival, held every spring. Many of my students have won the top awards, and when they thank me, it's…everything. I don't teach production, so if my classes help a student make a film, it's a special reward.

What do you like to do when you are not at CSM?

I love to read novels—at heart I'm a lit guy. And I've always loved music and been a musician—I play guitar and percussion. I'm currently a percussionist in a world music combo, Vibo Simfani, and we're gigging at various venues throughout the Bay Area, an exciting diversion and creative release for me.

Academic Support and Learning Technologies Division, with the purpose of building a better bridge from adult school to the college.

CSM Professor of ESL Amy Sobel, who also coordinates the ESL department's participation with SMAS explains, "The goal of the collaboration with SMAS is to help adult English-language learners transition more easily to college. Once they are at the college, we want to help them develop needed job skills or pursue further higher education and encourage them to become active contributors to the community."

To further the transition, Sobel works with adult school faculty to ensure that the curriculum between the schools is coordinated which enables students to move smoothly from one level to the next without duplication of coursework. She and SMAS teachers have developed strategies for preparing students for the challenges of college-level work. This collaboration is producing positive results, including the development of SMAS classes in writing and reading to strengthen student preparation for college classes and to increase academic

In addition, Sobel and college staff from the Extended Opportunity Programs & Services (EOPS) speak with groups of adult school students about the benefits of attending CSM and what they can expect from their college classes. The EOPS program takes it to the next step and hosts field trips to introduce SMAS students to helpful CSM programs and services, key faculty and staff members and give campus tours.

CSM's Learning Center has also become a player in the college-adult school collaboration by offering a series of college readiness workshops at both SMAS and CSM. According to Ron Andrade, Learning Center manager, "The workshops are offered over three weeks and focus on college preparedness, developing college knowledge, academic expectations, support services, and other important topics." The Center also hosts a "meet and greet" for those students who have already successfully transitioned to CSM.

Another service that is currently being developed to ease transitions for English-language learners is a mentoring component. This activity will pair students who matriculated from the adult school with a newly transitioned student to help pave their way. The idea is for the students to share their experiences and provide an additional network of support.

CSM's increased presence is impacting the lives of ESL students who have taken a nontraditional pathway to college. Ignacio is but one outstanding example. He has since graduated from CSM and is currently a Spanish major and English minor at SFSU. He plans to become a high school teacher of Spanish and ESL. "I want to make a difference in the lives of students just as my ESL teachers did for me. I tell other students who have dreams of getting a college education: believe in yourself, you can do it."

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Interdisciplinary Studies courses are part of the Honors Project Learning Community. See Learning Communities for more information.

Students accepted into this new and unique interdisciplinary community will join a dedicated group of faculty and students working together to create a rich, intellectual experience at CSM. Students will earn honors credit in selected transfer courses by developing and successfully completing advanced research projects. Students are required to concurrently enroll in an Honors Project research seminar. Students must be accepted into the Honors Project before registering for seminars. For more information, contact David Laderman (laderman@smccd.edu)

Beginning Friday, January 8, students will be dropped at midnight the day following their registration for non-payment of outstanding fees. For more important information, visit collegeofsanmateo.edu/fees.

Student enrollment fees are set by California's legislature and governor and are subject to change at any time. It is possible that your fees may be adjusted at a future date. All student records are automatically held until all outstanding debts to the District colleges have been cleared. Unpaid bills may be sent to collections.

Students who are classified as California residents as defined in the California Education Code will be charged an enrollment fee, a health services fee and a student representation fee. An optional student body fee will also be assessed. In accordance with California law, the enrollment fees may be waived for California residents who demonstrate financial need and qualify for a Board of Governors Enrollment Fee Waiver (BOGW). Contact the College Financial Aid Office for additional information.

Students who are classified as nonresidents will be charged a tuition fee in addition to the enrollment fee, health services fee and student representation fee. International Students (F-1 Visa) are subject to a health insurance requirement and are charged tuition and capital outlay fees in addition to enrollment fees. Contact the International Student Center for details.

The student representation fee was established by student election to support student advocacy before local, state and federal offices and agencies.

In addition, students will be required to purchase textbooks and miscellaneous supplies, as well as tools and technical supplies for certain programs. In some courses students will also be required to pay a non-refundable instructional materials charge.

Fees are subject to change at any time by action of the State Legislature, Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or the District Board of Trustees.

If you need assistance in paying your fees, you are encouraged to:

- Enroll in an inexpensive payment plan via WebSMART

AB 540 Students

Under Assembly Bill 540 (AB540), you may be exempt from paying nonresident tuition. Students who have attended a California high school for three years AND received a California high school diploma or its equivalent, such as a GED or passed the high school proficiency exam, are exempt from paying nonresident tuition. See page 4 for more information.

Credit and Refund Policy

Enrollment Fee, Nonresident Tuition Fee, Health Services Fee and Parking Fee

Students who officially withdraw from all courses, or reduce their program prior to the first class meeting or by the course deadline date will receive credit toward future fees for the full amount of all fees paid for those classes. To view deadline date, check course in WebSMART. A $10 processing fee (plus an additional $50 processing fee for nonresident tuition) will be retained by the College if a refund is issued to a student withdrawing from all classes. For all courses dropped after the deadline, these fees are not refundable unless an action of the College (e.g. class cancellation) prevents a student from attending class. Parking permit fees are not refundable.

Student Body Fee and Student Representation Fee

Students enrolling during the normal registration period in semester-long classes may request a waiver or a refund of the Student Body Fee and/or the Student Representation Fee through the last day to drop semester-long classes (see Important Dates on page 2). Students enrolling after the end of this deadline may request a waiver or a refund of these fees within one (1) week of completing registration. Students enrolled only in short courses have until the first class session to request a waiver or refund of these fees. Students requesting a waiver or a refund of the Student Body Fee and/or the Student Representation Fee must do so in-person at the Center for Student Life and Leadership Development in Building 17, Room 112.

Variable Unit Courses

No enrollment fee or nonresident tuition refund or credit will be available to students enrolled in variable unit courses who earn fewer units of credit than the number for which they originally registered. Students earning additional units will be charged accordingly.

Important:

- 1. Credit balances remain on student accounts for a maximum of five (5) years.
- 2. A student may either choose to maintain a credit balance on account or contact the Business Office (Building 10, Room 360, 574-6412) to arrange for a refund.
- 3. Refunds are NOT issued automatically and are subject to a $10 processing fee if the student withdraws from all classes. Refunds of nonresident tuition are subject to an additional $50 processing fee.
- 4. Fees paid by personal check require 30 days for bank clearance before refunds can be processed.
- 5. To be eligible for a credit or refund, a student must officially withdraw from a course within the stated deadline. To view deadline date, check course in WebSMART. A withdrawal initiated by an instructor may NOT result in a credit or refund.
- 6. Fees will be credited or refunded without a processing charge if an action of the College (e.g. class cancellation) prevents a student from attending.
- 7. Student records, including transcripts, are withheld until all debts to the District colleges have been cleared.

mitment our faculty and staff make to serving students in a variety of ways day-in and day-out is inspiring, really."

One of the most popular programs in the division is communication studies. According to Carranza, "Communication studies is a very practical major because it has so many applications across a variety of disciplines and in the work world. We regularly hear from employers that our students' ability to communicate effectively gives them an edge, especially when they are just starting out." He adds, "It's now almost a truism that people fear public speaking more than death (at least when they're surveyed). So our students are fortunate to have communication studies faculty who are true experts in their field and who alleviate students' anxiety about speaking in public." In addition to public speaking, the program includes intercultural, interpersonal, small group communication, and oral interpretation.

CSM's English Department offers a clear path of courses from basic skills to advanced composition and literature. As Carranza explains, "Our goal is to place as many students at or near transfer-level as possible and reduce as many hurdles as we can." For example, by design, CSM places only 3 percent of incoming students at the basic skills level, which as Carranza points out, "is unheard of at many other community colleges." The English department's integrated reading and writing approach to teaching composition fosters students' intellectual growth, allowing them to move into and through transfer level courses quicker and with more success than they would in a traditional program. The department also offers a variety of literature courses, survey courses in English and American literature, world literature, as well as individual author and genre courses.

For adult learners looking to improve their writing, speaking, and reading skills, CSM's ESL program provides a full complement of courses. The ESL department partners with San Mateo Adult School in offering ESL classes and providing services to support students' transition to the college. (see article, CSM's Partnership with SM Adult School on the front cover) Depending on their goals, students may simply stay in the program long enough to earn a raise or promotion at their current job or transition into a transfer program or courses in career and technical education.

Reading courses complement CSM's basic skills offerings, providing students additional support as they work toward and sometimes through transfer-level courses in the division or across campus. Students in these specialized courses receive assistance in the Reading/ESL Center.

CSM's Modern Languages Department offers transfer courses in American Sign Language (ASL), Chinese, and Spanish. The ASL program has recently been reinstated and is very popular. It offers two skill levels, satisfies the foreign language requirement for transfer, and introduces students to the deaf community and culture. Chinese is another program which is very popular, especially in its online format. And beginning fall 2016, the Spanish program is planning to offer a new heritage speakers class for fluent and more advanced speakers.

CSM's film program is very popular among students, and it is unique in that it's the only one offered in the college district. All of the courses are transferrable to universities and students may complete an associate degree for transfer in film. In addition to the core class, Introduction to Film, the program includes classes in film history, directors, genres, screenwriting, quality television, and film and new digital media. (For more information on the program, see the interview with Professor of Film David Laderman on page 3.)

The Language Arts Division offers more than an extensive selection of engaging courses. Carranza points out, "Our division exemplifies CSM's commitment to student access and success. We are fortunate that the college has established a priority to develop responsive, high-quality programs and services. For language arts, that means promoting discipline-specific learning support centers, four of which provide direct instructional service to students in communication studies, English, modern languages, and reading/ESL. The centers are fully equipped with computers, online learning tools, and print resources. They supplement classroom work and provide a variety of instructional support services for students in the majority of Language Arts courses. Faculty members in the Writing Center/English 800 Center, for example, provide one-on-one tutoring to students, while in the Communication Studies Center, students refine their delivery and technique by recording themselves using state-of-the-art equipment. In all of the centers, dedicated classified staff and student assistants are on hand to provide further service and support. Students in language arts courses also may benefit from the many additional services and resources available in CSM's Learning Center and Library.

The Language Arts Division invites you to come explore all that they offer.
