Institutional Research

College Index

The College Index, 2008/09-2015/16, contains a variety of quantitative data or indicators related to measuring institutional effectiveness. It can serve as a type of "report card" for the college.

The indicators are aligned with the Goals articulated in the strategic planning document, Strategic Goals, 2013/14 to 2015/16. As indicators for institutional effectiveness, they help measure CSM's progress in addressing these Goals along with the objectives associated with those Goals.

Please note:

Data become increasingly more meaningful as they are tracked over time: one is able to discern trends, comparing data elements to the original "baseline." Each indicator has a profile associated with it that defines the methodology for measurement (accessible via links in the document); definitions include information about the span of time the indicator encompasses along with the source of the data.

New data will be posted as it becomes available.
