Communication Studies

Communication Studies Center

Vision

The Communication Studies Center will complement the classroom experience to engender excellence in oral communication in students.

Mission

To fulfill this vision, the center:

- Advocates for oral communication as an essential part of learning;
- Cultivates an active-learning environment to develop student skills in speaking, listening, creative and critical thinking, and community-building;
- Provides innovative technology and pedagogy, coupled with faculty and staff support, to enhance student learning;
- Contributes through its initiatives to improve awareness and understanding of oral communication in the college community and beyond.

The Communication Studies Resource Center is a place where all may come to talk, think, and learn about oral communication.
