EBSCO contract with the state community colleges is complete posted Dec 16, 2017, 7:06 PM by Stephanie Roach

Hi all,

The contract with EBSCO is complete. It goes into effect January 1, 2018. However, we will have about a month as a grace period in which to make the changes.

Here is the most recent news from James Wiser at CCLC:

Hello, everyone –

We are thrilled to announce that the CCC Technology Center has successfully renegotiated the next five-year contract (2018-2022) for a statewide database purchase, and once again EBSCO was awarded the contract. I want to especially thank the good work of the team that worked with the CCC Technology Center during this renewal process; it took lots of hours and the final product is something for which we can all be profoundly grateful.

In summary, the following databases are included in this upcoming contract:

- Academic Search Complete*
- America: History & Life with Full Text
- Business Source Elite with Regional Business News
- ERIC
- Health Source - Consumer Edition
- Health Source: Nursing/Academic Edition
- MasterFILE Complete*
- MEDLINE
- Newspaper Source Plus
- Psychology and Behavioral Sciences Collection

upgrades from our current (2013-2017) contract with EBSCO*

Technology Problems and Solutions

SAM (Computer Login System) – outdated as of Spring 2016

Useful Logins

Included with Academic Search Complete

- MAS Ultra - School Edition
- Military & Government Collection
- Primary Search

The upgrades we have been provided through this contract renegotiation offer our group considerably more full-text, peer-reviewed journals.

That said, the following databases are falling off our statewide contract, and during the month of January 2018 EBSCO will be disabling your college's access to them:

- Auto Repair Reference Center
- Book Index with Reviews
- Consumer Health Complete
- Professional Development Collection
- Religion & Philosophy Collection
