Academic & Career Communities

Overview

Academic & Career Communities are designed to help you explore the degrees, certificates and other educational opportunities available at College of San Mateo. Each community has special events and a dedicated team of counselors, staff, and faculty to support you along your student journey.

On these pages you can view sample pathways that give you an overview of degrees & certificates, courses and career information. To begin exploring, simply click on the Academic & Career Communities below.

If you are an English language learner, visit the English as a Second Language \(ESL\) website.

Arts & Media

Arts & Media involves the theory and craft of expression in the studio, performance, film, and media arts. These creative programs rely on skills of analysis, composition, and/or production.

Business & Public Service

Business & Public Service involves analysis and leadership in the global marketplace and public service sectors. These entrepreneurial and administration of justice programs, including cosmetology and fire technology, rely on skills of strategy, management, and innovation.

Health & Wellness

Health & Wellness involves the study and treatment of people's physical, mental, and emotional condition. These clinical and athletic programs rely on skills of communication, empathy, and research to support the health of individuals and communities.

Language Arts & Social Sciences

Language Arts & Social Sciences involves the development of language skills and the study of people, society and cultures. These wide-ranging humanities programs often lead to careers in teaching, research, advocacy, or social services and rely on skills of communication and critical thinking.

Science & Engineering

Science & Engineering involves the scientific inquiry and investigation into the world around us. These analytical programs, including mathematics and computer science, rely on skills of problem-solving and research.

Explorers

Explorers involves a cross-disciplinary exploration into a variety of courses representative of different programs. This holistic experience provides a solid foundation in the liberal arts, science, and/or business, along with courses in career and counseling.
