The AGS Statewide Spring Convention is an annual conference for all the AGS Chapters in California to network with one another and to represent their colleges. About 45 chapters from all over California come for this weekend event. We will get a chance to know how other chapters function, exchange ideas, attend various workshops that teach us leadership and communications skills. The conference will also provide us with tools for successful transferring, effective organization skills, stress relief exercises, workshops on health and wellness awareness and much more. The benefits that we will bring back to CSM include leadership skills, communication skills, organizational skills and all the knowledge and skills that we learn through the workshops and interactions with members from other colleges. Since our members are also part of other clubs on campus/ in leadership capacities in said clubs, all the knowledge gained at this conference will be passed on-- not only to AGS students, but to all students on campus. Also, AGS' consistent attendance at the conference as its largest contingent demonstrates CSM's prominence and strength in the California Community College network.

This year, 40 members are going, along with our 3 advisors. The conference is being held by Chabot College at the DoubleTree Hotel in San Jose.

Pi Day was first officially celebrated on a large scale in 1988 at the San Francisco Exploratorium (exploratorium.edu). Since then, the day is very well celebrated among students and math-lovers.

For the event itself, we are planning to have pies and any other circularly, spherically, cylindrically shaped food. Also, we are planning to have activities, such as contests related to Pi, thus needing some event materials and prizes (maybe gift cards, details to come...)

*Would compasses (the one to draw circles) be prohibited for student's use due to its sharp needle?
