Foreword

IT WAS 103 YEARS ago that residents of San Mateo and Burlingame voted to establish the very first institution of higher education in San Mateo County—San Mateo Junior College. Known today as College of San Mateo, the college has cultivated a rich history which has grown with the communities it serves. In 1922, the college welcomed the inaugural class of 30 students to a “campus” that consisted of several classrooms at San Mateo High School, then located on Baldwin Avenue. Over the next forty years, as additional space was needed for the growing student population, the college would move to the Kohl Estate (in what is now part of Central Park), the Delaware Campus, the Coyote Point Campus and finally, the College Heights Campus.

Much has changed since 1922: CSM has experienced growth, both in size and diversity. Our programs and services have evolved to support the needs of the changing student population and employers, and most recently, our current campus has been transformed. Today we serve more than 16,000 students each year. Moreover, in the past 103 years, CSM has educated more than 800,000 students!

What has not changed is CSM’s commitment to meeting the educational and workforce training needs of the community and contributing to the economic vitality of the county and beyond. As stated in *Class Act: College of San Mateo - A History, “For thousands, College of San Mateo has been a springboard to success.” Our alumni have gone on to meaningful careers and have become leaders in education, business, science and technology, medicine, entertainment, athletics, government and public service.

*Michael Svanevik and Shirley Burgett, Class Act: College of San Mateo – A History (San Francisco: Custom & Limited Editions, 1996), 125

Student Speaker: Amy Nguyen

As a proud first-generation Vietnamese American immigrant student, Amy Nguyen is pursuing transfer degrees in Sociology, Law & Public Policy and Society, and Psychology. An enthusiastic campus leader at CSM, Amy serves as the Advocacy Board Chair and Senator for the Associated Students, Vice President for the Vietnamese Student Association, and Student Assistant in the Office of the Vice President of Student Services. Amy is also a Student Ambassador for the Honors Project, a Research Assistant in the Sociology Department, and an active peer mentor with both the Asian Pacific American Cultures & Community (APACC) Program and the Asian American Pacific Islander (AAPI) Leadership Development Program. As an incoming transfer to the University of California, Berkeley, Amy is committed to amplifying marginalized voices and transforming communities through education, advocacy, and action.

Commencement Speaker: Dr. Belinda Hernandez-Arriaga, LCSW

Dr. Belinda Hernandez-Arriaga, LCSW, is an educator, advocate, and visionary leader fueled by love and courage. As the Founder and Executive Director of Ayudando Latinos A Soñar (ALAS) in Half Moon Bay, she has transformed the farmworker community, infusing it with cultural pride and unyielding hope. Under her leadership, she has pushed for the Coast's first affordable housing for farmworker elders. Her work in the field of mental health care for immigrants has been transformative—reimagined with arts, culture, and community at the center. A beloved mentor and award-winning author of a children's book on family separation, Belinda championed farmworkers' needs during the pandemic and led her community's healing after a mass shooting. From the southern border to the White House, her advocacy has touched countless lives and inspires change rooted in our collective humanity. As a Licensed Clinical Social Worker she is committed to changing systems that empower community strengths.

Holding a Doctorate in Education, Dr. Hernandez-Arriaga is an Assistant Professor at the University of San Francisco, inspiring the next generation of clinical counselors and activists. At ALAS, she has built groundbreaking partnerships with USF and Stanford to lead pioneering research on the power of culturally responsive mental health care. She has helped to publish works like There Is a Monster in My House, Cultura Cura, and Olvidados Entre la Cosecha, which illuminate the emotional experiences of undocumented and mixed-status youth. Recently Belinda helped to found the Colibri Research Center at ALAS, developing groundbreaking studies including her current work to create an instrument to measure immigration trauma. Dr. Belinda's work has positioned ALAS as a national model for community-driven mental health programs that champion the belief that La Cultura Cura, that culture cures.

She is a tireless voice for human rights. She was named to the San Mateo County Women's Hall of Fame and appointed San Mateo County District 3 Arts Commissioner. She is also a civic leader and the proudest mother of three young women. She was named woman of the year in the California Senate and Assembly districts for the Central Coast. She sits on the President's Advisory Board for College of San Mateo. She lives with her family on the Coastside.

Helping Students Achieve Their Dreams

Every day, we read about cutbacks in state and federal educational loan and grant programs. However, one student aid program established in 1966 stands out as a success story: San Mateo County Community Colleges Foundation.

The Foundation is a tax-exempt, 501(c)(3) organization with a mission to promote student success at the three community colleges in San Mateo County: Cañada College, College of San Mateo, and Skyline College. To that end, the Foundation raises funds for student scholarships and academic program grants. The scholarships make it more affordable for community members to enroll in and complete college, while the academic programs help students thrive while in school.

The Foundation relies on a wide range of donors, including individuals, big and small businesses, civic groups, community organizations, San Mateo County Community College District alumni, staff, and faculty, and even fellow students. This year, we are excited to share that we are awarding $1.8 million in scholarships to 1328 students across all three campuses.

Your generous contribution to the Foundation today will help ensure the availability of this support for future generations. For more information or to donate, please contact:

Academic Dress

The commencement ceremony at College of San Mateo continues the centuries-old tradition of wearing distinctive academic dress. This custom dates back to the Middle Ages when people dressed in accordance with their rank in society and their professions. Since the clergy was the literate class at that time, today's academic costume, which is used both at American and European colleges and universities, derives from these early clerical robes.

The Cap and Gown

Associate and bachelor degree holders wear plain black gowns and black mortarboards. The bachelor's gown is always black and worn closed; the master's gown is also black and may be worn open or closed. Associate's, bachelor's, and master's gowns have long pointed sleeves. The doctor's gown has round open sleeves and is trimmed with velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve; it is normally black and may be worn open or closed. The mortarboard's tassel indicates the wearer's academic degree.

The Hood

The bachelor's hood is three feet long; the master's, three and one-half; and the doctor's, four, with wide panels on either side. The bachelor's hood is rarely worn. The inside of the hood, or lining, is of silk and depicts the colors of the institution granting the degree. Master's and doctor's hoods are trimmed with velvet panels of varying widths. The color of the panel indicates the field in which the degree was received. Some of the most common colors are as follows: white, arts and letters; drab, business and commerce; copper, economics; light blue, education; brown, fine arts; maroon, home economics; crimson, journalism; pink, music; dark blue, philosophy; sage green, physical education; golden yellow, science; purple, law; lemon, library science; peacock blue, public administration; and scarlet, theology.
