On an evening last spring, representatives of justice department organizations, educational institutions, nonprofits and governmental agencies from throughout San Mateo County came together at College of San Mateo to celebrate the college’s newest community partnership program, Project Change. The event recognized the important work on behalf of many organizations to make a college education accessible to one of our community’s most at-risk and vulnerable populations: incarcerated and court-involved youth.

Many students who become involved in the criminal justice system experience a disjointed education as a result of being in and out of detention facilities or being moved to various school sites. And for most, there is no expectation that college is in their future. Project Change student Anastasia

Richael Young began attending CSM at the age of 14. Homeschooled during her high school years, she enriched her education by attending CSM's Concurrent Enrollment Program. She continued at CSM as a full-time student; she excelled in academics and became a student leader. In addition to serving as student trustee of the San Mateo County Community College District, Richael was elected as president of the Student Senate for California Community Colleges, representing the state's 2.8 million community college students. Richael transferred to University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign where she earned a B.S. degree in civil and environmental engineering and an M.S. in agricultural and applied economics. ### Student Success Story: Melissa Aliu

BA, Sociology-UC Santa Cruz

Melissa Aliu grew up in a close-knit Pacific Islander family that greatly values education. After graduating from El Camino High School, Melissa attended a neighboring community college for a year before she decided to make a change and enroll at CSM. "In my first semester at CSM, I didn't know anyone, but I realized that gave me a chance to really focus on academics." As Melissa became familiar with the college, opportunities began to open up for her. She adapted quickly as she got to know faculty and staff and made new friends. "I appreciate the diversity at CSM; it made me feel very comfortable," says Melissa. Making connections with faculty was another benefit for Melissa. "My ethnic studies professors Frederick Gaines and Rudy Ramirez and my English professor Jon Kitamura were especially inspiring."

She became involved in student life by joining the Pacific Islander Club and participated in events that celebrated her culture. Melissa was hired as a student assistant by the Financial Aid Office to conduct workshops and as a student ambassador in the college's marketing department to assist with outreach activities. Her work experience at CSM provided opportunities to work with students from diverse backgrounds and cultures. Melissa explains, "I could understand and appreciate the struggles that students go through and, to best assist them, I learned which college resources would be best for each and made referrals based on their individual needs."

Melissa's overall involvement at CSM – through academics, extra-curricular activities and on-campus work – contributed largely in her career decision. "Since attending CSM, my life has changed for the better. My experience at CSM taught me the impact that college faculty and staff can make in the lives of students."

Because of that experience, I decided to pursue a career in public education and to major in sociology. My long-term goal is to become a counselor and work with high

EOPS: Educating the Complete Student

When it comes to providing customized services to keep students on their educational path, CSM's Extended Opportunity Program and Services, known as EOPS, is the gold standard. For many students, getting into college isn't half as much of a challenge as staying in college. EOPS offers "above and beyond" support services designed to increase access, retention and success rates of low-income and often first-generation college students. Over the years, the program has proven essential for thousands of members of the community who have struggled to become self-sufficient and needed assistance in navigating college and university systems.

Most EOPS students start college in math and/or English classes that are two levels below college level. With additional counseling and financial support, they are often able to transition to college-level courses and eventually graduate and transfer to universities. According to Krystal Romero CSM's interim dean of counseling, matriculation and advising, "This is a population of our community that is very resilient, however, they face significant barriers to achieving their educational goals." CSM's program, which serves between 350-400 students per year, provides a critical safety net of resources and services to encourage and promote their success. EOPS educates the complete student.

UC Berkeley and CSM graduate Nelson Amorin participated in EOPS and says the program has had a major impact on his success in college. He explains, "EOPS presented me with numerous resources and opportunities, but most importantly, it became my second family. It is much more than services. The program provided me

Message from the President

It's my pleasure to welcome you to CSM's fall semester. Fall marks the beginning of the academic year, a very exciting time for students, faculty and the entire college community. It's typically our largest semester for enrollment and classes offered. As you look through our class listings, you will notice that we're offering an extensive selection of courses—in many subject areas and varying skill levels—to accommodate the diverse needs and interests of our community.

The theme of this schedule focuses on high potential students who face challenges and often lack resources to continue their education. Many are often the first in their families to attend college, others experience setbacks that impact their path to higher education. Once in college and provided with appropriate support and resources, these students demonstrate both perseverance and resiliency.

In our standing cover feature, "CSM in Your Community," we are highlighting Project Change, a model program serving students who have faced significant challenges in their youth. As we strive to make a difference in the lives of our students, we realize we can't always do it alone, as is the case with Project Change. This program is an excellent example of how the college works in partnership with community agencies to support and assist students achieve their educational goals. We are proud of these students who made the decision to improve their lives by attending CSM.

To learn more about this new program, I encourage you to read our staff interview with Katie Bliss, the project services coordinator of Project Change. As a member of CSM community's, Katie recognized a need to serve a specific segment of our youth and stepped forward with an idea for a program which has become Project Change. Katie, a CSM alumna, has walked the path of her students and is a true success story. I'm sure you will find her story both fascinating and inspirational.

Another program that assists students is Extended Opportunity Program and Services (EOPS), the subject of our program feature, "EOPS: Educating the Complete Student." We are honored that CSM was the birthplace of EOPS, a program that is now offered by every California community college. EOPS provides crucial services and support to so many of our students who juggle work, school and family responsibilities. As a tribute to the program, I am pleased to say that our EOPS students are among the most successful students on campus.

Finally, we are delighted to introduce you to Melissa Aliu in the "Student Success Story." She is another excellent example of a student who found the resources she needed at CSM. I met Melissa while she was serving as a CSM student ambassador, and subsequently, I had the honor of informing her when she was awarded a prestigious scholarship to UC Santa Cruz. Since graduating from UC, Melissa has decided to give back to the community by embarking on a career in education. She is currently working at Aragon High School and will be entering graduate school this fall.

I hope you will join us for CSM's fall semester. I wish you the best in your educational journey.

An Interview with Katie Bliss, Project Change Coordinator

Incarcerated youth in San Mateo County have a champion in Katie Bliss. Bliss, a native of San Mateo, understands the plight of youth who are detained in the juvenile justice system and is a passionate advocate for social justice and education. Katie attended Hillsdale High School and Peninsula Alternative High School but found herself in San Mateo County's Juvenile Hall for part of her junior and senior years of high school. Although she was able to make up lost high school credit and earn her high school diploma while incarcerated, she faced significant obstacles in her pursuit of a college education. First and foremost, there were no expectations that Katie would go to college. The idea of matriculating to a college campus was daunting. However, she enrolled at CSM and persevered largely because several of her professors believed in her abilities and served as mentors to guide her through the system. She developed a network of faculty, staff, and peers who provided a much-needed safety net. After two years at CSM, Katie transferred to Notre Dame de Namur University and went on to earn her BA and MA in English; she also holds certificates in reading and composition from San Francisco State University.

A true success story, Katie returned to CSM as an English instructor; she also taught at Foothill College, City College of San Francisco, Skyline College, Menlo College, and Notre Dame de Namur University. It was while teaching at CSM that Katie proposed the design for Project Change, a program that would provide access to higher education for incarcerated and court-involved youth. Her concept included incorporating many factors that contributed to her successful transition from the juvenile justice system to college: a structured program that focuses on a variety of career pathways, student support services, faculty and peer mentors, a sense of academic and individual identity, and student leadership development. In addition to her personal experience, Katie worked with a team of faculty and administrators to research best practices for working with this special population of students. For the program to be successful, Katie and the Project Change team knew it required support and engagement from key organizations throughout the county involved in the juvenile justice system. Subsequently, several community partnerships have been forged between the San Mateo County Community College District and many San Mateo County agencies, nonprofits, and educational institutions. In 2014, Project Change began as a pilot project with 10 students enrolled in the program; students are currently completing their second year, and a new cohort is finishing their first year this semester. Cohort three is set to begin this summer, 2016.

Katie's current role is as the program services coordinator for Project Change. In addition, Katie serves as the chair of CSM's Project Change Advisory Committee, member of the San Mateo County Office of Education School Site Council, and currently advises on the Glenwood Education Subcommittee, which provides guidance for the court schools in the county. She also co-authored a California Wellness Foundation grant which provides financial support for Project Change. Additionally, Katie regularly makes numerous presentations on the status, goals, and outcomes of Project Change to groups of county, city and justice department officials.

In this interview, Katie discusses her background and unique perspective on educating students in the juvenile justice system and how her personal experience has influenced the development of Project Change.

You began your career as an English instructor at CSM and other colleges. How did your role at CSM evolve into the program coordinator for Project Change?

It has been apparent to me for many years working in education and volunteering in the nonprofit sector, how essential it is to have programming with clear and direct pathways for court-involved youth in the County to access higher education. Students in these juvenile youth facilities finish their high school diploma or complete their GED but then what is next?

We have over 529 court involved youth in San Mateo County. For so many students, knowing that college is even a possibility is a huge stepping stone. For a long time, it has been a goal of mine to create a program to serve this student population. Luckily, this has also been a central goal for the College District's Board of Trustees and chancellor; college administration, faculty, and staff; Probation Department; and San Mateo County Office of Education. It was the right time to get a program like this started. This is not just a San Mateo County issue. It is a national problem, and there is finally attention on a wide scale focused on higher education for incarcerated populations.

When I proposed the pilot of Project Change in 2013 to CSM's Basic Skills Committee, I envisioned a program that would serve to support some of the most at-risk and underrepresented students in the County by providing access to higher education. It began by serving just 10 students with some small seed money from CSM's Basic Skills Initiative, and it has now grown to serve over 90 students with the full support of the college. I coordinated the program on a part-time basis while teaching English, and now I have the great opportunity to facilitate the program full time. Two years after its inception, this is a thriving program at CSM, which came about as a result of strong collaboration from multiple groups on campus and in the community. This illustrates the dedication our county and college district has for serving all students.

Briefly describe the philosophy and mission of the project.

Project Change is a program centered in social justice, equity, and access to higher education. The mission of this program mirrors the central philosophy of our community college system: to ensure that postsecondary education is available to any student who seeks it.

The goal of this program is to reach out to some of the most traditionally underserved populations of students in our county and create a strong pathway of support so they can achieve their educational goals.

In the very recent past, the primary focus for incarcerated populations, especially youth, has been a high school diploma, GED, or career readiness, but not college education. This is the first comprehensive college program in California to serve incarcerated youth funded by the community college.

When young people who have been in the criminal justice system chose to go to college, this doesn't just impact the student themselves. This positively impacts families and the rest of the community. These are students who have been through a great deal of obstacles and challenges, and they are here with passion, determination, grit, and tremendous resiliency, pursuing their higher education.

What is the significance of the name, "Project Change?"

So much of what this program embodies is change. A personal, societal, and cultural change regarding higher education and incarceration. At the core of the language of "change" is the identity shift that occurs for students who participate in the program. One of the most positive results of being in the project is the transition from seeing oneself as an inmate, to identifying as a college student. The message of this program is positive and empowering because the students who are in it are changing the way many people view those who have been entangled in the criminal justice system.

How has your personal experience informed the development of Project Change?

Project Change is a program designed around research-based methods, and its model was adapted from successful youth-focused programs surveyed nationally that serve incarcerated populations. The design and concept has also been greatly influenced not just by research but also personal experience. I strongly believe that some of the best programming serving these students combines the theoretical with real world experience. Many of the people who contributed to the creation of this program brought in their life experiences as well.

I was incarcerated much of my junior and senior year of high school at the same juvenile hall we now work with. I received my diploma while I was there and missed much of what a traditional high school student experienced. Much of my secondary high school experience was disjointed as result of being in the system. Trying to just get my high school diploma while incarcerated was

Getting Started at CSM

Continuing Students Priority Registration

Priority registration gives specific groups of students the opportunity to register for classes early. Generally, groups are given priority based on maintaining current Student Educational Plans (SEPs), completing the matriculation process, maintaining good academic standing, and earning a total number of units with the district.

A student is considered a continuing student with priority registration if the student enrolled in the Spring 2016 semester in at least one class and is either still enrolled; or dropped the class after the class session had started. In late October, students will be sent a WebSMART registration appointment email which will contain their individual appointment date. Continuing students may register and pay fees using WebSMART on or after their appointment date. All students who have an outstanding balance from any prior semester will not be able to register for classes until all fees are paid.

Application Process for NEW and FORMER Students

All students who have not attended any of the last three semesters, including summer session, must submit an Application for Admission for the Fall 2016 term. Submit an Application for Admission at collegeofsanmateo.edu/apply. After being admitted, and completing matriculation requirements, if applicable, new and former students may register and pay fees using WebSMART. See Fall 2016 Important Dates on page 2.

College Connection Concurrent Enrollment Program

The High School College Connection Concurrent Enrollment Program is a special program designed to provide current 9th–12th graders the opportunity to get an “early start” on their college experience and earn college credit. Enrollment fees are free to California residents who enroll in less than 11 units.

Step 1: Apply for admission online at collegeofsanmateo.edu/apply.

Step 2: Meet with your high school counselor to review and select your college courses.

Step 3: Take placement tests at CSM if you plan to register for English or math courses or a course that has an English or math prerequisite. More information can be found at collegeofsanmateo.edu/testing.

Step 4: Submit completed Course Request Form to the Admissions and Records Office at College of San Mateo, Building 10, Third Floor, by mail, in person, or by fax (650) 574-6506.

Priority Enrollment Program (PEP)

For Graduating High School Seniors and Other New or Returning Students

College of San Mateo offers a special enrollment program that provides priority access to matriculation services and enrollment for students who plan to enter the College in Spring 2016. More information about PEP can be found at collegeofsanmateo.edu/pep.

Transfer Students

Students who have completed lower division coursework at other colleges and universities and wish to apply that credit to the completion of a College of San Mateo certificate, associate degree, or to a California State University General Education Certification, or to an IGETC Certification should have their transcripts officially evaluated after applying for admission at collegeofsanmateo.edu/apply. For more information, review the Transcript Evaluation Service information at smccd.edu/transeval.

Dismissed Students

Students on dismissal status within the San Mateo County Community College District must go through a process to request reinstatement and permission to enroll in classes. The first step of this process at College of San Mateo is to attend a Reinstatement Workshop. To schedule a reservation for a workshop go to the Counseling Office in Building 10, Third Floor, Room 340 or schedule online (WebSMART - “schedule appointments”). Students must complete the workshop and the reinstatement process prior to the registration deadline date for the term for which they request enrollment.

Students who were dismissed and who have NOT been in attendance at College of San Mateo, Cañada, or Skyline College since Summer 2015 must complete an Application for Admission prior to attending the Reinstatement Workshop.

International Education Program

College of San Mateo welcomes international students, who enrich the academic, cultural, and social life of the campus by bringing a diversity of ideas and multicultural perspectives to the classroom and by providing opportunities beyond the classroom for all CSM students to engage in conversations and activities that create a broader understanding of the global community in which we all live.

College of San Mateo’s International Student Center provides extensive support services for international students including an efficient admissions process, assistance with financial aid, a welcoming on-campus orientation, and ongoing counseling and advising throughout the students’ enrollment at the college. Dedicated, student-centered professors, small class size, and state-of-the-art facilities create a robust instructional environment in which students grow intellectually and prepare for transfer to a four-year institution or for further training in a career. For information, contact (650) 574-6525.

Distance Education

College of San Mateo is committed to meeting the evolving needs and expectations of its students and community through the expansion of alternative means of delivering instructional and student support services.

Distance education courses consist of online and hybrid courses. Online courses are conducted through a class website, and there are no mandatory campus meetings. Hybrid courses are conducted mostly online but do have at least one meeting on campus. Most CSM distance education courses are applicable toward associate degree credit, and many satisfy transfer course requirements. Additionally, students enrolled in distance education courses have the same access to financial aid as those enrolled in on-campus courses.

Distance education courses may not be right for all students. They give students greater freedom of scheduling, but they also require more self-discipline than on-campus courses. How well distance education courses fit into a student’s educational and career goals depends on many factors. It is important for first-time distance education students to review the information available on the distance education website at collegeofsanmateo.edu/distanceeducation. For those students who are able to create the right environment, have the right study habits, and understand the technical and academic requirements, CSM’s Distance Education courses can be as effective as on-campus courses in terms of student learning.

The Distance Education Resource Center is available to assist students and answer questions in order to ensure College of San Mateo students have a successful distance learning experience. For more information, please visit the Distance Education website at collegeofsanmateo.edu/distanceeducation or call (650) 574-6271.

Sign on WebSMART, click on Student Services, find Request a Transcript Evaluation.

Complete a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to automatically be considered for all of the following programs:

Board of Governor’s Fee Waiver (BOGFW)

The State of California offers a BOGFW for students who are residents of the State of California, attend a community college, and are eligible for need-based financial aid. The BOGFW pays enrollment fees only for the academic year when eligibility has been determined. Other fees, such as parking, health, student body and student representation, must be paid by the student (see Fees page 21). Important: New eligibility regulations effective Fall 2016. See page 7.

Federal Pell Grant

You are automatically considered for a Federal Pell Grant when you file the FAFSA. If you receive an Expected Family Contribution (EFC) of $5200 or less on the Student Aid Report (SAR), you are eligible for a Federal Pell award. Less than half-time students have a much lower EFC cut-off to be eligible for a grant. Awards for students are prorated based on enrollment status: full-time 12 or more units; three-quarter time 9–11.5 units; half-time 6–8.5 units; less than half .5–5.5 units. Awards range from: $287 – $5,775.

Cal Grant A, B and C Deadline to Apply is March 2 or September 2

Cal Grants are for California residents only. They are awarded by the California Student Aid Commission for attendance in schools in California only. Maximum awards are: Cal Grant B $1,666; Cal Grant C $547.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

FSEOG is a grant awarded to students with exceptional need (EFC of 0 through 1,000). Awards range from: $100–$800. Priority application date: March 2. Visit www.icanaffordcollege.com

California Chafee Grant (CHAFEE)

The California Chafee Grant Program awards funds to eligible current or former foster youth for career and technical training or college courses. Eligible Chafee applicants are required to be, or to have been, in foster care between their 16th and 18th birthdays, and to not have reached the age of 22 by July 1 of the award year. Maximum annual award: $5,000.

Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS)

EOPS is a state-funded program that provides book vouchers, grants, support services, and limited transportation services to high-need, educationally disadvantaged students who are California residents. Students must complete the FAFSA and/or a BOGFW application to apply. Students must be enrolled full-time at the time of application. Final eligibility for EOPS and CARE is determined and coordinated through the EOPS Office.

Student Employment Federal Work Study (FWS)

Students who apply for financial aid and complete the Student Information Sheet and the FAFSA by March 2 are given priority. Maximum Annual Award: up to $10,047. Priority application date: March 2.

California Dream Act

The Dream Act was passed into law in 2011 and allows AB 540 students to apply for and receive several types of financial aid, including Board of Governors Fee Waiver, Cal Grants and Chafee Grants, EOPS, CARE or CalWorks and Scholarships.

Loans and Scholarships

Loans are funds that students borrow now and repay after they complete a program of study or stop going to school. Scholarships are awarded for a variety of criteria. Visit collegeofsanmateo.edu/financialaid or call the Financial Aid and Scholarship Office at 574-6146 for more information.

Financial Aid Steps

Step 1: Apply

For 2016–17 file a 16–17 FAFSA at www.fafsa.ed.gov. College of San Mateo’s college code is 001181. FILE EARLY for the upcoming year (anytime after January 1). Log in to WebSMART for dates and sign-up.

Step 2: Student Aid Report Received

After you apply, you’ll receive a Student Aid Report (SAR). Your SAR contains the information reported on your FAFSA and usually includes your Expected Family Contribution (EFC). The EFC, a measure of your family’s financial strength, is used to determine your eligibility for federal student aid.

Step 3: Check SAR for Accuracy

Your SAR must be checked for accuracy. Please check WebSMART for any additional information required to complete your file before submitting your SAR to the office.

Step 4: Submit Documents

Submit all required documents to College of San Mateo’s Financial Aid Office. File is complete!

Step 6: Aid Funds are Paid!

You will receive a check in the mail or if you signed up for direct deposit funds will be electronically deposited into your bank account.

6 EDUCATIONAL GOALS: ASSOCIATE DEGREES, CERTIFICATES, TRANSFER

Educational Goals at CSM

View the College Catalog and the College website, collegeofsanmateo.edu, for more information about goals and opportunities at College of San Mateo.

University Transfer Program

Complete your freshman and sophomore years of university work at College of San Mateo and transfer as a junior to a baccalaureate level college or university. College of San Mateo can help you plan an educational program to prepare you to transfer to the University of California, California State University or private college or university to earn a bachelor’s degree. Assistance from Counseling Services and Transfer Services can ensure a smooth transition to the transfer institution of your choice. With planning, it is possible to concurrently complete an associate degree as you complete coursework to facilitate university transfer. In many cases, students planning to transfer may want to pursue an Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T/AS-T). See information below.

Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA/AS-T)

Benefit Students Intending to Transfer to CSU

California community colleges offer associate degrees designed to support transfer to the California State University system. Students who complete an AA-T or AS-T secure priority admission to the California State University system. A list of associate degrees for transfer (AA-T/AS-T) is located in the CSM Catalog and on the Transfer Services website. For more information about SB 1440 and advantages to completing an AA-T or AS-T go to www.sb1440.org or www.adegreewithaguarantee.com.

Associate in Arts and Associate in Science Degree Programs

At College of San Mateo you can select from over 65 associate degree majors, or choose to complete multiple degrees to enhance career and job opportunities or for personal enrichment. Graduation from College of San Mateo with the associate in arts or science degree is based upon the completion of 60 units of lower-division college-level work, which includes major, basic competency, and general education requirements. For a complete list of associate degree majors and courses required to satisfy each major refer to the CSM Catalog.

Certificate Programs

You can earn a certificate in achievement or a certificate of specialization in over 70 areas. Certificate programs are designed to prepare you for employment. All certificate programs are carefully developed by advisory committees composed of college staff and selected representatives from the business and industrial communities. Typically certificates require 12–40 units of coursework and can be completed in one semester or over several semesters. Certificates are awarded upon successful completion of requirements listed in the CSM Catalog.

Bachelor Degree to Associate Degree

Students who have already been awarded a Bachelor’s degree from a regionally accredited college or university in the United States and wish to pursue an associate’s degree at College of San Mateo may be exempt from College of San Mateo local Associate degree requirements if the lower division degree-applicable coursework completed for the Bachelor’s degree includes current Title 5 minimum associate degree requirements. (Title 5, 55063) This policy does not apply to Associate Degrees for Transfer (AA/AS-Ts). Students must still complete a minimum of 12 units in residence to establish residency at College of San Mateo and must complete at least 50% or 12 units, whichever is less, of coursework applied to the associate degree major in residence at College of San Mateo. The units applied to meet residency requirements may also be the units that are needed to meet the major requirements. For more information refer to the college catalog or use Counseling Services.

Monitor Your Progress toward University

Transfer, AA/AS-Ts, Associate Degrees, and Certificates

Within your student WebSMART under the Student Services tab, find DegreeWorks. DegreeWorks is a tool to monitor progress toward your educational goals. DegreeWorks looks at the program requirements found in the College of San Mateo, Cañada College, and Skyline College catalogs and the coursework you have completed to produce an easy to read degree audit. Also in DegreeWorks you can work with a counselor to develop a comprehensive student educational plan (SEP) that maps out, semester by semester, courses needed to meet your educational goals. Students with SEPs have a higher registration priority than students who do not have SEPs.

Multiple Educational Goals

At College of San Mateo you are free to pursue your educational interests for personal and career growth and development. This may mean that you want to complete certificates, associate degrees, and transfer. You are not limited to selecting one educational goal.*
**Students participating in the CSM Financial Aid program are required to declare one primary educational goal.*

Updating Job Skills

You may find classes and programs that appeal to you for updating your job skills or advancement in your career.

Program Planning and Enrollment Management

Students enrolling at College of San Mateo should plan a program of study that will meet their educational and career goals. Attend the College Orientation and Course Selection Workshop to acquire information about program planning and how to achieve educational goals. All students who attend a workshop have access to counseling services and should consult with a counselor early in the educational process for academic planning assistance. Students often have multiple goals and plan to complete a college certificate, an associate degree, and/or transfer to a university to complete a baccalaureate degree.

If in the course of enrollment at College of San Mateo, students find it advisable to change their program of study or educational goal, they may do so. These changes should be discussed with a counselor and students should be aware that any changes may result in extending the time necessary to fulfill the certificate or degree or transfer requirements. Ultimately, students maintain full responsibility for planning their educational programs and for their enrollment management.

Students are responsible for maintaining current and accurate information in their WebSMART accounts, checking student email, updating educational goal information, managing registration and enrollment, retrieving grades and placement test results, and monitoring academic standing.

Associate Degree for Transfer (AA/AS-T)

These unique associate degrees allow students to prepare for transfer and complete an associated degree that guarantees admission with junior standing to the California State University system. Though not a guarantee to all California State University campuses and all majors, it does secure priority admission consideration.

challenging. There was no emphasis on postsecondary education and certainly no programs to provide access to it. For young people like me who were smart and creative, but incarcerated during some of the most critical times of development into young adulthood, this absence of opportunity made the road to college nearly impossible. This experience resonates with the majority of the students in our program. It is not unique.

In retrospect, some key influences assisted in my eventual academic and personal success: mentoring, community-based courses/programs, student services, and positive peer support. These key components are central to Project Change. I found mentors in some of my professors who inspired me and held the bar up high. I was enrolled my first year in a certificate program at the college that was very community-based. It was like being part of a family on campus. Everyone got to know one another, helped hold each other accountable, and many students were trying to achieve similar academic and career goals. It made that transition to becoming a college student a much smoother process. I felt like I belonged.

Explain how the collaboration with so many community and governmental agencies has occurred and its significance.

The creation of this program was a culmination of multiple ongoing efforts by the College District and county agencies to provide college access to incarcerated youth. We were all able to unify and combine our efforts to achieve the same goal. It has truly been inspiring to see the dedication and passion of so many groups to support these students. These partnerships speak volumes to the shared vision and dedication our county has for social justice and educational equity.

From your perspective, describe the impact post-secondary education has on incarcerated youth and their families.

The way students begin to see themselves and their future changes when they begin college. This is a shift in identity for so many of our students, nearly all of which are first-generation college students. Their families in turn are so proud and excited for their kids, or their siblings. In fact, I have two students in the program who are sisters because the older sister saw her younger sibling begin her first semester, and she became motivated and inspired to start college as well. They shared with me the first week of school that their mother was so proud of them both going to college, that she nearly followed them to their first class, taking photos and saying, "My two girls are in college! I have college students!"

One of the components that makes Project Change unique is that it offers wrap-around services. Please describe some of those services and how they are delivered?

Students in Project Change receive outreach up to six months in advance before stepping foot on campus. This outreach includes college orientations and financial aid workshops. This allows students to begin the process of thinking about and preparing to come to college so that when they do enroll and start classes, they are already connected with the most appropriate resources at the college for their success. As a result of early outreach, students qualify for priority enrollment, have a higher likelihood to receive comprehensive financial aid, and can connect with other college services.

One of the most exciting and innovative elements of the program is that we offer a college readiness course for UC/CSU credit, "Keys to Success," for students while they are incarcerated. This is one of the key features that makes Project Change unique, in that we have a program with services both on campus and a class for college credit in the juvenile hall. Students who complete the course then come to campus as part of our cohort upon release.

Our instructor, Tabitha Conaway, is an inspiring educator who motivates and supports these students who are enrolled in her class. The nonprofit organization, San Mateo County Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA), has volunteers who are in the juvenile hall classroom providing students guidance and support. In the evenings, the nonprofit organization, Each One Reach One, has their volunteers at the juvenile hall available to support the students enrolled in the college course while they do their homework. It is truly an incredible joint effort.

What is your personal philosophy toward working with incarcerated youth?

I strongly believe that all students should receive and have access to high quality education regardless of circumstances. Incarcerated youth often need advocacy to ensure that the education they receive is of the highest quality. Many students who become involved in the criminal justice system experience a disjointed education as a result of being in and out of detention facilities or being moved to various school sites. Those of us who regularly work with these students now that these kids have great resiliency, determination, and wisdom beyond their years that puts them in a good position to have success in college; they just need the guidance. These young people are leaders, creators, academics, and artists, and the label of a criminal or delinquent is something they are leaving behind when they are part of the program.

What is your professional goal?

I would love to see this program available at other colleges. There is a strong need to support these students all over San Mateo County, California and the country. My goal is to continue to advocate for these young people. ■

Year One – CSM and local high schools working together!

Did you know that over 50 percent of San Mateo County high school graduates attend our community colleges? With this fact in mind, CSM in collaboration with local high schools, has created Year One an accelerated student learning program for the first year of college. Our partners include the San Mateo Union High School District, Sequoia Union High School District and Half Moon Bay High School (Cabrillo Unified School District). Year One helps students transition from high school to college smoothly and succeed academically. Benefits include priority registration, personalized counseling, peer support and mentoring, and a wide range of meaningful co-curricular activities.

Currently the program serves incoming 2016 graduates from Carlmont, Half Moon Bay and Hillsdale high schools. Visit collegeofsanmateo.edu/yearone to learn more.

with a place of study, career advice and friendship. As a first generation college student, I had no one to help me navigate higher education but luckily, EOPS provided me with kind, patient advisors who guided me and kept me focused on my academics."

Funded by the State of California, EOPS programs are available at all 113 community colleges in the State. To participate in the program, students meet State eligibility requirements based on family income and demonstrated educational disadvantage. Once in the program, students enter into a Mutual Responsibility Contract and receive monthly academic progress reports to ensure they stay on track in their goals toward completing college degrees, certificates and university transfer.

(Note: A forerunner of the EOPS program originated at CSM in the late 1960s when several counselors, staff members and students formed the College Readiness Program, to provide a variety of services to low-income, academically underprepared students to help them in attaining their educational goals. Eventually the State Legislature passed a bill to fund programs at all community colleges in the state. The program was a model for what would become the EOPS program.)

Delivering customized services to keep students on their educational path is a main hallmark of the program. According to surveys of EOPS students, they consistently choose personalized counseling as the number one service offered by the program. Amorin's experience affirms this view, "Aside from financial help for books, the most valuable resource for me was the career counseling. I have yet to meet any other counselors, including at the university level, as dedicated to their students as the counselors at EOPS. My counselor, Sylvia Aguirre-Alberto, went the extra mile to help me plan my educational program; I was able to earn 2 associate degrees from CSM, transfer to UC Berkeley and earn two bachelor's degrees. This would not have been possible without Sylvia's help."

Another service provides the opportunity for EOPS students to visit and tour university campuses, both local and in Southern California. The objective is for the students to recognize transfer as a very real possibility in their futures. In addition, the program provides a wide range of other services include tutoring in the EOPS center; book assistance; priority registration; workshops on topics that related to academic success; financial aid and scholarship application assistance; special events that promote cultural awareness; EOPS Center for individual and small group study; and the EOPS Club where students can build relationships and foster friendships.

Former EOPS student Estela Garcia, who graduated from San Jose State University and is currently CSM's college recruiter, entered the program as an older student who had been in the workforce for several years. She agreed with Amorin that EOPS represented something of a family for her. "Beginning college as an older student was quite intimidating, but EOPS aided in building my confidence. If it wouldn't have been for EOPS I probably wouldn't have graduated from a university. I had an amazing counselor who assisted me in determining the correct classes to take, and was always interested in how I was doing not only academically but also personally," says Garcia.

Romero, who has worked with EOPS students for many years and seen countless success stories, says, "These students are hard-working, academically capable and determined. They just need a little encouragement until they realize their own potential and strengths." They certainly do get all that and more. Amorin, who is one of those successes (currently applying to medical schools), conveys his tribute to the program, "EOPS made me a better student but it also made me a better person." ■

New BOGFW Eligibility Regulations Effective Fall 2016

California Community College students receiving the BOGFW must meet minimum academic and progress standards to remain eligible for the BOGFW due to changes made by SB 1456 Student Success Act of 2012 to Title 5 of the California Education Code.

Students must:

- Maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 (Academic Standard)
- Successfully complete at least 50% of all units attempted (Progress Standard)

If a student is placed on academic and/or progress probation for two consecutive primary terms (fall or spring semester), they will lose eligibility for the BOG Fee Waiver as well as enrollment priority. For more information on this regulation and the conditions by which students can appeal, please see smccd.edu/faprobatation. Students are encouraged to utilize the numerous support services on campus to help them regain good academic standing.

Fees

Fees are due and payable at the time of registration. Students will not be able to register for classes if they have any outstanding balance. On Wednesday, August 3, 2016 students who have any outstanding fee balances for Fall 2016 will be dropped at midnight for non-payment of fees. Beginning Thursday, August 4, students will be dropped at midnight the day following their registration for non-payment of outstanding fees. For more important information, visit collegeofsanmateo.edu/fees.

Student enrollment fees are set by California’s legislature and governor and are subject to change at any time. It is possible that your fees may be adjusted at a future date. All student records are automatically held until all outstanding debts to the District colleges have been cleared. Unpaid bills may be sent to collections.

Students who are classified as California residents as defined in the California Education Code will be charged an enrollment fee, a health services fee and a student representation fee. An optional student body fee will also be assessed. In accordance with California law, the enrollment fees may be waived for California residents who demonstrate financial need and qualify for a Board of Governors Enrollment Fee Waiver (BOGW). Contact the College Financial Aid Office for additional information.

Students who are classified as nonresidents will be charged a tuition fee in addition to the enrollment fee, health services fee and student representation fee. International Students (F-1 Visa) are subject to a health insurance requirement and are charged tuition and capital outlay fees in addition to enrollment fees. Contact the International Student Center for details.

The student representation fee was established by student election to support student advocacy before local, state and federal offices and agencies.

In addition, students will be required to purchase textbooks and miscellaneous supplies, as well as tools and technical supplies for certain programs. In some courses students will also be required to pay a non-refundable instructional materials charge.

Fees are subject to change at any time by action of the State Legislature, Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, or the District Board of Trustees.

- If you need assistance in paying your fees, you are encouraged to:
- Enroll in an inexpensive payment plan via WebSMART
  - Apply for financial aid (www.fafsa.gov) at least five business days prior to registering for your classes
  - Complete the Board of Governors Fee Waiver via WebSMART

If you still need financial assistance after exhausting all options listed above, please contact the Vice President of Student Services at csmpvps@smccd.edu.

Credit and Refund Policy

Enrollment Fee, Nonresident Tuition Fee, Health Services Fee and Parking Fee

Students who officially withdraw from all courses, or reduce their program prior to the first class meeting or by the course deadline date will receive credit toward future fees for the full amount of all fees paid for those classes. To view deadline date, check course in WebSMART. A $10 processing fee (plus an additional $50 processing fee for nonresident tuition) will be retained by the College if a refund is issued to a student withdrawing from all classes. For all courses dropped after the deadline, these fees are not refundable unless an action of the College (e.g. class cancellation) prevents a student from attending class. Parking permit fees are not refundable.

Student Body Fee and Student Representation Fee

Students enrolling during the normal registration period in semester-long classes may request a waiver or a refund of the Student Body Fee and/or the Student Representation Fee through the last day to drop semester-long classes (see Important Dates on page 2). Students enrolling after the end of this deadline may request a waiver or a refund of these fees within one (1) week of completing registration. Students enrolled only in short courses have until the first class session to request a waiver or refund of these fees. Students requesting a waiver or a refund of the Student Body Fee and/or the Student Representation Fee must do so in-person at the Center for Student Life and Leadership Development in Building 17, Room 112.

Variable Unit Courses

No enrollment fee or nonresident tuition refund or credit will be available to students enrolled in variable unit courses who earn fewer units of credit than the number for which they originally registered. Students earning additional units will be charged accordingly.

Important:

1. Credit balances remain on student accounts for a maximum of five (5) years.
2. A student may either choose to maintain a credit balance on account or contact the Cashier’s Office (Building 10, Room 360, 574-6412) to arrange for a refund.
3. Refunds are NOT issued automatically and are subject to a $10 processing fee if the student withdraws from all classes. Refunds of nonresident tuition are subject to an additional $50 processing fee.
4. Fees paid by personal check require 30 days for bank clearance before refunds can be processed.

CSM in Your Community—Project Change

explains the program’s significance to her life: “Project Change gave me hope [to come to college] because I never thought I would have the opportunity to attend college.”

Began as a pilot project in 2014, Project Change has the distinction as the first community college-supported program in California to provide comprehensive educational services and resources, both academic and emotional support services, to serve court-involved youth. This program provides a bridge from the County’s juvenile justice system – comprised of five court and community schools which house approximately 530 students – to community college. The first group of Project Change students are currently completing their second year of college, another group is in its first year, and a third cohort begins the program in summer 2016.

The collaboration includes community partnerships with key organizations throughout the County that provide services to students in the juvenile justice system: San Mateo County Juvenile Justice Department, San Mateo County Probation Department, Superior Court of California (San Mateo County Branch), Private Defender Program, San Mateo Police Department, San Mateo County of Education, San Mateo Union High School District, San Mateo County Behavioral Health and Rehabilitation Services, Each One Reach One (EORO), and the San Mateo County Appointed Special Advocates (CASA), among others.

Deputy Chief Probation Officer Christine Villanis, a community participant, explains the impact of the program, “Knowledge is power. Project Change provides an opportunity, through individual, targeted support and guidance, to empower youth to start on a new path they may have believed was out of reach. They gain the power over their lives as college students who can redefine the communities they live in.”

Katie Bliss, the coordinator of Project Change who also played a central role in the development of the project, explains the critical need for such a program, “For many years, incarcerated youth have been able to acquire high school credit or receive their GED while incarcerated; however, there hasn’t been anything formally in place for students to begin their work on a college degree or a specific support network for them while they begin college. In today’s world, a postsecondary degree or certificate is imperative for job opportunities. Therefore, it is invaluable that all youth have access to quality higher education regardless of their circumstances.”

The research-based design of Project Change integrates several components that focus on creating a clear pathway to campus resources that promote students’ success and to services that best meet the needs of this student population. First and foremost, students are provided with a support network of faculty and staff mentors to offer academic and personal guidance to assist them in navigating that very important first year of college.

WE CAN HELP

Project Change student Daniel offers his perspective, “Rather than just telling us we need to go to college, Project Change staff walks us through the process, they keep us engaged and they follow-up on us.”

Project Change students have access to CSM’s wide range of academic and career programs and learning communities. They also receive resources and services already in-place at CSM which includes participation in the college’s one-week intensive Pathway to College summer program, access to the full-range of student support services such as customized orientation, individual counseling, financial aid workshops, onsite placement testing and campus tours, among others. Project Change offers college readiness courses and workshops on site at the juvenile hall to prepare student for their transition to CSM’s campus as regular college students.

Bliss understands the magnitude of the issue, “This is not just a San Mateo County problem, it is a national problem, and there is finally attention on a wide scale focused on higher education for incarcerated populations.” What is the applicability to other counties and regions?

Those of us who work with these students witness their resiliency, determination, and wisdom beyond their years that puts them in a good position to have success in college; they just need the guidance,” says Bliss. “These young people are leaders, creators, academics, and artists, and the label of a criminal or delinquent is something they are leaving behind when they are part of the program.”

As Daniel states, “Project Changes gave me a challenge; I have accepted it and I’m doing well in college.”

school students in their transition to college,” Melissa says.

In spring 2013, Melissa became the first in her immediate family to become a college graduate and did it in a big way: she earned three associate degrees from CSM. She also was the recipient of the prestigious UC Santa Cruz Karl S. Pister Leadership Opportunity Award. This two-year scholarship is awarded annually to outstanding community college transfer students who are nominated by their college president. Receiving the Pister Scholarship was a turning point for Melissa; the award made it possible for her to transfer to UC Santa Cruz with a full-ride scholarship. In 2015, she earned her BA degree in sociology and also completed a minor in education.

Soon after earning her degree, Melissa was hired as a financial aid and scholarship advisor at Aragon High School in San Mateo. She has developed a passion for helping high school students and their families learn about available financial resources and how to apply for those resources. It wasn’t long ago that Melissa was in the place of the students she is helping, “I know from my own experience that information and access to resources can make a college education a reality. As my instructors and mentors at CSM advocated for me, I see my role as an advocate for the high school students that I serve.”

In fall, 2016, Melissa will begin graduate school at San Francisco State University to pursue her career goal of becoming a college counselor. ■
